Mesdames Dan Scott, Tom Scott, Alfred Scott, H. A. Abernathy, H. G. Corbett and Louis Scott of El Paso are visiting in Dallas today. They will be luncheon guests of Mrs. Corbett at the Baker hotel and a show later.

Miss Eva Ellen Berry, daughter of Mrs. C. M. Berry, has been ill for several days with the measles.

B. T. S. REVIVAL IN PROGRESS AT NORTH BAPTIST

The Baptist Training Service and Stewardship revival of Collin county got off to a good start Monday. Miss Grace Conn, state B. T. S. worker, who is directing the county revival made the inspirational address at the North Baptist church Tuesday evening, on the subject of 'Stewardship Tithing." Miss Conn stated in her opening remarks that the North church of McKinney, to date, had the largest attendance of the county, one hundred and twelve being present Tuesday evening. Rev. G. B. Bradshaw, pastor, and president of the county Sunday school work with the other four teachers are happy over the attendance and the fine classes. Forty-seven were present in the class taught by the pastor who teaches the book, "Our Lord's and Ours" to the adults and seniors.

MRS. J. C. DEVER PASSES AWAY AT BLUE RIDGE

Mrs. J. C. Dever, aged 76 years, died early Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Hoffman, at Blue Ridge, after an illness of about two years, due to a broken hip. The deceased was a native of Arkansas, coming with her parents, at the age of three years, and settling in Red River county where she lived until three years ago, moving to Blue Ridge with her daughter, with whom she resided.

Her husband, J. C. Dever, died in Manchester in 1914. He held the position as county surveyor for twenty-five years.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church in Blue Ridge at 2:30 Saturday afternoon with the Rev. Oliphant, pastor of Church of Christ, at Farmersville, in charge of the services. Burial followed in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

The deceased was a devout member of the Christian church. She held her membership in Clarksville for many years.

Surviving are four children: one daughter, Mrs. G. W. Hoffman, Blue Ridge; J. C. Dever, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Paul I Dever, Broken Bow, Oklahoma; George R. Dever, Manchester. One son, C. E. Dever, died in 1919. Seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive.

Those attending the funeral from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Seneca Cowan, Mrs. H. D Hoffman, of Detroit; Mrs. August Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Sax Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Griffin, of Paris; Mrs. W. C. Marchmanks, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Srygley, Miss Hazel Watson, Poke Allsbrooks, of Manchester; Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Dever, of Broken Bow, and daughter, Mrs. H. S. Castleberry, George R. Dever, of Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pender and children, Mrs. Alfred Breckshage, of Dallas.

Otis E. Nelson Pre-Holiday Sale

Otis E. Nelson is calling attention through the advertising columns of the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette to a pre-holiday sale of dry goods, clothing, shoes and other items of merchandise. Mr. Nelson has been in business here some eighteen years and when he says "sale" he really means a sale. His store handles only the best of merchandise which he is offering to his friends at real money-saving values. He is making preparations in his store and re-arranging his stock so as to be able to serve the people in a business-like, courteous manner. He invites his friends to come by and partake of his bargains.

Mrs. W. E. Marshall Clearance Sale

Mrs. W. E. Marshall is calling attention to a Thanksgiving clearance sale of all merchandise now in stock in her millinery shop. This stock is all new and modern. She is offering some very attractive bargains through the advertising columns of the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

H. B. Johnson, McKinney merchant, and wife have returned from Ringgold, Texas, where they visited the latter's sister, Mrs. John Tompkins, and husband. They brought back home with them their daughter, Miss Helen, who had been a guest in the Tompkins home for a few days.

DIXIE L. WATKINS M'KINNEY BUSINESS MAN SUCCUMBS

DIED AT HOME BROTHER-IN-LAW N. L. TALKINGTON TUESDAY NIGHT

After three weeks' illness, following a stroke of paralysis, Dixie L. Watkins, 53, passed away Tuesday night at 9:30 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nat Talkington, and husband, who reside on Bradley street.

Dixie Lawrence Watkins was born in Lebanon, Tennessee, Nov. 25, 1879, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Watkins. His parents came to Texas and to Collin county when the deceased was an infant of only a few months and he had continued to reside in or near McKinney since that time. He was, at the time of his death, 53 years, 11 months and 28 days old.

He was married to Miss Ruby Brown, of Weston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown, who still reside in that community. One child as born to this union, D. L. Watkins Jr., who survives. He is a student in Texas A. & M. college at College Station.

He is also survived by one sister and two brothers, as follows: Mrs. Nat Talkington, at whose home he died; L. C. Watkins, of Durant, Okla., and C. L. Watkins, of San Antonio, Texas.

During his residence in McKinney, the deceased was engaged in the garage business in which line of work he made a success. He was a former member of the McKinney Lions club as well as the Elks club. He was a member of the Christian church.

Funeral services were held at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Talkington, on North Bradley street, at 2 p. m. last Wednesday, conducted by his pastor, Dr. Clifford S. Weaver of the First Christian church, assisted by Eld. R. C. Horn. Interment was made in the Horn cemetery with the C. C. Harris Funeral home in charge.

Pallbearers were Homer Hitchcock, R. P. Scott, C. D. Neely, Burl Massie, F. O. Board and B. H. Oates.

MRS. J. C. HERRON GIVEN SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. J. C. Herron of the Lone Elm community was given a surprise dinner on her 53rd birthday Sunday, November 19. All her children were present except Carl Herron of McKinney, who could not be present. Dinner was spread on tables underneath the trees in the yard. The following were present: Alena, J. C. Herron and Mary Loys, at home; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Herron and daughter, Alma Jo, of Lone Elm; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herron and daughter, Erlene, and niece, Lila Faye Anderson, of McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maise and daughter, Mildred Anne, of Celina; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Herron and sons, Ernest Jr. and Billie, of Lone Elm; Mr. and Mrs. Buford Thompson and daughter, May Beth, of Lone Elm; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Burton and sons, Leon and Joe D., and Miss Louise Berry, all of McKinney.

B. D. ROBISON RETURNS FROM DEER HUNT

B. D. Robison has returned to McKinney from a ten day-hunt in Rio county, Southwest Texas, on which he killed one buck. However, he states that deer are poor as are also wild turkey, and game is not so plentiful this year as in some seasons. Mr. Robison went on the hunt with his brother, Sam Robison, of Chambersville, Dr. H. F. Wolford and Will Bush, both of this city. B. D. Robison was for three years connected with the Central State bank of McKinney, but for the last six years, he and his wife have been living at Pampa, in Gray county, West Texas, where he is assistant cashier of the First National bank of that city. He is a fine young fellow, whose McKinney and Collin county friends are legion. He and his wife came here on a vacation two weeks ago to visit her brother, Jesse Burton, and sister, Mrs. Roy Roberts, both of McKinney, and also his relatives here and elsewhere in our county. They expect to return to their home at Pampa within the next two or three days.

Hon. Sam Neathery of Houston is greeting friends in our city. He is a native of Collin county, being a former county attorney. Prior to going to Houston he was a law partner of Hon. L. J. Truett. Sam's many friends in McKinney are always glad to see him.

BUCKNER ORPHANS HOME TO RECEIVE CARLOAD SUPPLIES

The fifty-seven Baptist churches, composing the Collin County Baptist association, together with other friends, have for several years shipped each year at Thanksgiving a carload of merchandise, consisting of provisions of every kind, clothing, bedding, and supplies, valued at $1,200.00 to $1,800.00, to Buckner Orphans home, Dallas.

The Association voted unanimously to ship another car again this year, which will be loaded at the Interurban station in McKinney, Monday, November 27th, according to J. E. Gibson, chairman, in charge of the orphan's home car, in this county.

The churches, and individuals interested, may bring their offerings to the car at McKinney any time Monday and it will be properly taken care of. Churches in the south part of the county may leave their shipments at the interurban station at Plano any time Monday and it will be loaded into the same car.

"We trust that each church in the association will appoint proper soliciting committees to see that the church and community is well represented in this carload shipment," Mr. Gibson says. "Pastors, laymen, Sunday schools, B. Y. P. U.'s and ladies' societies can be of much assistance. Bring anything in the grocery line, or food stuff from the farm, wearing apparel, dry goods, or supplies of any nature. The more the better as there will be no expense for freight or drayage.

"More than 600 orphan children, of all ages, are dependent upon the free-will offerings of their friends for support and maintenance. Let us not disappoint them in this undertaking."

MELISSA QUILT AND FLOWER SHOW WAS SUCCESS

COMPETITION PROVES KEEN AMONG MANY EXHIBITORS

By Mrs. A. H. Bridgefarmer, Cor.

The Melissa Garden club sponsored a quilt and flower show in that little town, it being held Friday afternoon and night, all day Saturday and Saturday night, November 17 and 18. The principal flowers shown were roses, chrysanthemums, zinnias and marigoid and ribbons on other entries. The prizes were flowers and included cacti, begonias, ferns, snake's tongue, and also two lovely primroses, the latter donated by the Coffman greenhouse of McKinney.

The club had solicited some for quilts and hoped for some forty five entries, but the display was so much larger than hoped for that space was at a premium. There were 74 quilts entered, classed as follows: tops, old quilts, coverlids, pieced quilted quilts, embroidered and appliqued quilts. There were large quilts, small quilts, bright quilts, soft pastel shades, in fact, lots of quilts. They were displayed down both sides of the long building, two rows on each side and how many tedious hours of careful work was displayed. The prizes for the quilts were cash ones. They were as follows:

Coverlets—Mrs. H. S. Wysong, first; Mrs. G. A. Covington, second.

Old quilts—Mrs. Mary Gibson, first; Mrs. John Erwin, second.

Embroidered quilts—Miss Elizabeth Evans, first and second.

Tops—Miss Clara Ruth Browning, first; Mrs. H. S. Wysong, second.

Pieced quilts—Mrs. A. H. Bridgefarmer, first and second.

Appliqued quilts—Mrs. A. H. Bridgefarmer, first; Mrs. C. W. Hardaway, second.

There were drawings both afternoon and evenings.

There was also a bean guessing contest for which Miss Rena Hughes guessed the nearest to the number of beans in the jar.

The churches of the town had booths in the building and each church realized a nice sum of money.

Saturday night some nice string music was furnished by Knowles Hall and daughter of Altoga, Messrs. R. F. Lawson, Davidson and Wallace Mowdy, the latter of Stiff Chapel. The club believes the show was a complete success and the large crowds seem to indicate the same thing.

The Whitesboro High school lads from West Grayson county will furnish opposition for the McKinney High Lions here Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Lions who decided not to take the week off in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day battle with Gainesville here on November 30, scheduled the Whitesboro lads to keep in condition. They are one of the strongest Class B clubs in North Texas. Last week they decisively defeated the Celina team, which is one of the classiest B units in this section.

MRS. T. W. WILEY PASSED AWAY WED. MORNING

WIDOW LATE DR. T. W. WILEY—FUNERAL FRIDAY

Mrs. Mattie E. Wiley, 84, died at 8:10 o'clock a. m. (Wednesday) in the McKinney hospital where she was taken Sunday night, November 19, for treatment. She was the widow of the late Dr. T. W. Wiley who died, September 14, 1925.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church at 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, Nov. 24, with interment following in Pecan Grove cemetery.

She is survived by the following children: James E. Wiley, Walter H. Wiley, both of McKinney; Admiral Henry A. Wiley of New York City; Mrs. Lela Wiley Henderson, Jacksonville, Florida, and Mrs. Betsy W. Lingo, McKinney. She is also survived by several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Children preceding her in death were Mrs. J. H. Ball, Mrs. Lula Wiley Ditto and Mrs. Mary Wiley Carlton, the latter passing away in El Paso a few years ago.

Born in Mississippi.

Miss Mattie E. Hudson was born, July 4, 1849, at Brookhaven, Mississippi. She was well educated and one of the most intellectual women of our city. She was a resident of Dallas when she married the late Dr. T. W. Wiley, who was a prominent physician and surgeon of this city for more than forty years. Possessed of an unusually amiable disposition as well as a gifted mind, she was endowed to a high degree as a natural leader in women activities in church, fraternal and civic circles. She organized the first Mother's club in McKinney, and her splendid work along this line caused the Martha Wiley Mother's club to be named in her honor. She served as president of the District Mothers' club organization that covered a large section of the state. She was a past president of the second district Woman's federation, representing a large section of Texas, and up to the time of her death, was one of three past presidents (other two being Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy and Mrs. E. L. Burton) who were residents of McKinney. She also was a past president of the State Rebekah Assembly of Texas.

Mrs. Wiley had long been a devout communicant of the First Baptist church and a leader in women organizations of that denomination of the city and state. She always manifested the liveliest interest in educational matters especially those relating to her home town and county. Her death is truly and sincerely mourned by our entire citizenship on account of her long life of unfailing service to the people of her home town, county and state in intellectual, civic and spiritual ways. Her name, like that of her distinguished husband, shall continue to be venerated in the loving memory of the people of our county and city for generations to come.

VISITS HERE FOR FIRST-TIME IN THIRTY YEARS

REV. J. E. TALLENT OWNS FARM WEST OF McKINNEY

Rev. J. E. Tallent, 52 East Palmer street, Detroit, Mich., was in McKinney this week for the first time in thirty years. Thirty-eight years ago Rev. Tallent bought seventy acres of fine black land, two miles west of the city, and still owns it. When he made this purchase we had no good roads, telephones, lights, or any other modern improvements in our city or county.

Rev. Tallent has been a Methodist minister and pastor for fifty-four years. Two years ago he retired from the regular ministerial and pastoral work, but he still maintains his membership in the Methodist conference. Years ago, Rev. Tallent preached three years in Texas, five years in Georgia and eight years in Tennessee. For thirty-seven years, he resided in New York City, two years ago moving to Detroit, Mich., where he and his wife reside with their oldest daughter, who is single. Rev. Tallent also has another daughter, who resides in New York, a teacher, who is single. He has a nephew residing in Chico, Texas, whom he recently visited. He came to McKinney to attend to some business matters. He is a fine old Christian gentleman, of pleasing address and would be easily taken for a man of not more than sixty years of age, although he is 75. These editors had the pleasure of meeting him.

NEWS BRIEFS

. . At A Glance . .

Hailstorms visited Greenville and other North Texas cities Tuesday.

Mrs. Rosevelt, wife of the president, has called a conference at Washington, hopeful of securing additional employment for women of the nation.

FARMERSVILLE TIMES EARLY POLITICAL RUMORS

M. B. Smith is the editor of the Farmersville Times. He is wise, as well as otherwise. Knows what is going on all the time. Lots of men and women are going to run for office next year—from Justice of the Peace—to governor. Editor Smith never ran for office. He "lines 'em up" and gets other people to run. Living in Friendly Farmersville, he knows his "onions." In the last issue of his paper, The Farmersville Times, he takes the following shot at the candidates and prospective candidates for 1934:

"The political pot is beginning to boil in good old Collin—and rumors are flying thick and fast as to the candidates who will offer for the various political posts during the primaries of next summer. Every day our political scout brings in new names of patriots, who are willing to offer themselves on the altar of sacrifice. Of course, the district and county prospects are drawing the greatest interest at this time. Beginning with the post of congressman from the fourth district—there is much talk of Congressman Sam Rayburn having several opponents—and among those most frequently mentioned are Judge Roger Carter of Sherman, Judge Morris Harrell and Jess Morris, both of Greenville. It is rumored that Senator Joe Moore will be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor—therefore, there is liable to be a grand rush for his place. Judge Wallace Hughston of McKinney and Will Harris of Raines county, and Editor Dick Gaines of Rockwall, are being mentioned for the senate. For local representative our scout reports the following are being groomed: Byron England of McKinney, Bill Baker of Blue Ridge, Col. J. Stinebaugh of Farmersville and John Enloe of McKinney. Probable candidates for other offices are: Flotorial Representative—Attorney Roland Boyd of McKinney; Fred Biggerstaff of Frisco. County Attorney—Leon Moses, Horace Neilson and John D. Reese, all of McKinney. Sheriff—Will Kerby, Ed Blakeman, Claud West and Sheriff G. J. S. Walker, all of McKinney, and Grover Dixon of Blue Ridge. District Clerk—Lonnie Sears and Tom Bailey of McKinney. County Treasurer—Miss Lela Copeland of McKinney, Dan Rike of Farmersville. Tax collector and assessor—Nick Hood of Plano, N. D. Ready of McKinney, Paul Harris of Farmersville. County Superintendent— J. H. Jackson, Farmersville, L. D. Hendricks, Roby Fagg of Blue Ridge."

I. E. Reeves, owner of the brick on the East side of the square, formerly occupied by Woods' Jewelry store has leased same to "Speed" Cox, who will occupy it in the future. Mr. Reeves is making some improvements in the building. On account of Speed's growing business, he had to have more room. He also owns the Blue Bonnet cafe on North Kentucky street, making three businesses he owns in our city.

Miss Ozella Pope, daughter of Mrs. H. C. Pope of McKinney, an employe of one of the Skillern stores in Dallas, recently won a contest among the twenty-one stores in that city for selling the greatest number of light globes. Her quota was fifteen cartons and during the contest she sold eighty-eight. As a result of winning first place, she was given two worthwhile prizes. Miss Pope is a native of this city and lived in McKinney up until a few years ago when she went to Dallas.

With Jaycee delegations present from Dallas, Fort Worth, Longview and Denison, and with many local townspeople in attendance, the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce held an open meeting in the auditorium of the First Baptist church here Tuesday night when they were presented with their national charter, having recently become affiliated with the national organization.

A telegram was read during the meeting from Les Farrington, president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce di Paul, congratulating the local organization on the receiving of this national charter.

W. P. (Billy) Abernathy, past president of the local organization, and at present a state Junior Chamber of Commerme director, presided over Tuesday evening's program. He called on M. O. Bozeman, past president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and former state director who, in a few brief, yet well chosen words introduced the speaker of the evening, Eric C. Gambrell, president of the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce and a state director.

Presents Charter.

Mr. Gambrell, an eloquent speaker with a pleasing personality, told the possibilities, aims and desires of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce association, after which he presented the national charter to the local organization. It was officially accepted by President Earl Walker of the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce who thanked Mr. Gambrell for the gift and who declared that the young business men of McKinney are striving to live up to the ideals of that organization.

Pres. Merritt Speaks.

Mr. Abernathy introduced President Jas. H. Merritt of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, who spoke of the cooperation between the senior and junior divisions in this city. He was followed by Don W. Bagwill, secretary of the local Jaycee organization, who gave a history of that organization since its formation in May, 1932.

Another speaker on the program was E. N. Ratliff of Fort Worth, president of the State Junior C. of C., who stressed the importance of such organizations in the lives of young business men.

Telegrams Read.

Telegrams were received during the meeting and read by Mr. Abernathy, as follows:

Les Farrington, president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, of St. Paul, Minnesota; Oscar B. Jones, president, Longview Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the following McKinney business houses, organizations and individuals: Gamble Drug company, Mockford Motor Line, Clifford Thomas, W. H. Shaw grocery, Collin County Seed company, Bridgefarmer Jewelry, A. D. Hope & Sons, Walter Cockrell, J. P. Dowell, Underwood Chevrolet Co., A. J. Allen, North Side Drug company, Coffey's Drug store, Carr's Ready-To-Wear, Central State bank, Perkins Bros. company, McKinney Examiner, J. C. Penney Co., Retail Merchants' association, W. J. Woods Dry Goods Co., The Owl club, F. D. Perkins, Collin County National bank, and A. M. Scott.

Out-of-Town Visitors.

Prominent out-of-town Jaycee visitors and officials who were here and who were introduced by Mr. Abernathy were: Eric C. Gambrell, president of the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce, who presented the charter; E. N. Ratliff, Fort Worth, president of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce; Jack Barnes of Longview, vice-president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce; R. C. Hall, director of the Fort Worth Jaycee organization and secretary-treasurer and director of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce; Dr. and Mrs. Drechsel, the former, first vice-president and director of the State organization, of Fort Worth; C. Russell Smith, vice-president of the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce; J. Frank Parker Jr., director in the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce; John D. Jacobson, past president of the Dallas Jaycees; Pat Mallia, secretary of the Dallas Junior Chamber of Commerce; R. D. Herman, Dr. C. B. Elmore, Lawrence Ashburn, H. A. Metcalf and Chas. H. Gullett, all of Denison.

W. H. Coffman, florist, decorated the church with ferns and flowers.

Reception Held.

At the conclusion of this program, Mr. Abernathy invited everyone present up into the parlors of the church where the wives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce officials and members served a delicious refreshment plate, consisting of sandwiches, mints and coffee.

The program was broadcast through the facilities of Station MKTX, of which Ed Leak of this city, is local manager.

This was one of the most important meetings in the history of the local young business men's organization. Visitors, other than Junior Chamber of Commerce members, were given an insight into the workings of the local organization, the program being both enjoyable and instructive.

M'KINNEY 25 Years Ago

From The Files of The Daily Courier-Gazette

(November 21, 1908.)

Justice of the Peace Claude Manning was here from Blue Ridge yesterday.

C. L. Sears has qualified as County Treasurer. Dimes to doughnuts that he will make a perfectly good one. His bond is $173,000. Some bond.

Alderman Jonas D. Bass tells us that the city electric light plant is being extended all over the city so as to accommodate new customers regardless of where they live.

Former County Attroney Wallace Hughston of this city and Attorney M. D. Borwn of Plano are lay delegates to the Methodist annual conference at Greenville.

Hon. R. C. Merritt is having a nice cement sidewalk put down in front of his handsome new home. We need a few more progressive citizens like Clarence Merritt.

City Tax Assessor and Collector Forest O. Board will call on any business or professional man or merchant in the business district if you desire him to receive your taxes and receipt for them. Forest is an accommodating public servant.

Dr. E. D. Mouzon, one of the most prominent ministers of Southern Methodism, came over from annual conference, at Greenville, to briefly visit his father and brother, H. D. Mouzon, who lives here. Dr. Mouzon's home is in Austin, but he is now occupying the Chair of Theology in Southwestern university at Georgetown.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1933.

"Two Men Shot To Death in Paradise"—recent headline in Dallas Dispatch. Ah, ha, we knew the tough guys would finally get there.

Thanksgiving turkey market is now on in earnest. McKinney dealers report a big Collin county crop of this favorite table bird.

McKinney stores are filled with fresh, new stocks—bought right, sold right, and you get the pleasure of shopping with your personal friends and acquaintances who have a real interest in you besides getting your money. Your home merchant always gives you the best service.

Don't forget, dear reader, that business concerns of McKinney offer merchandise value to those who appreciate value and want to get the most for their money. Don't be deluded into thinking that the mail order merchant or the store of the big city can do as well for yau, quality and service considered. They can't do it.

The public library is maintained by a democratic society in order that every man, woman and child may have the means of self-education and recreational reading. The library provides materials for education and advice in their use. It diffuses information and ideas necessary to present welfare and future advancement of a community. It strengthens and extends appreciation of the cultural and spiritual values of life. It offers opportunities for constructive use of new leisure.

On November 5th collection of processing taxes on hogs and corn become effective. The hog tax began at 50 cents per live hundredweight, increasing to $1 on Dec. 1, to $1.50 on Jan. 1, and to $2 on Feb. 1. The corn tax will be 28c per bushel. The theory is the taxes will increase the retail prices of hogs and corn to the growers. Uncle Sam must have the tax coin to pay the bill created by the bounties paid the hog raiser and the corn grower. As usual Jones is paying the freight. But it is the best, in the long run, even for Jones.

According to official count of Mrs. Oscar George Collin county statistician, there were 55,419 bales of cotton ginned in this county this season up to October 18 as compared to 46,395 bales ginned to the same date in 1932. The year's Collin county yield is expected to reach in the neighborhood of 75,000. Had not about a third of the acreage been plowed up under the Federal Government reduction plan, the county's total yield might have reached almost 100,000 bales—close to the record crop of the county.

From one-half acre of sandy land, J. W. Moss of Edna, Jackson county, Texas, made eighty-one gallons of fine quality syrup that sold at fifty cents per gallon. Cane grows well in Collin county, and quite a few of our farmers raise it to provide for their own table molasses with possibly a few gallons surplus to sell. Any enterprising farmer can raise cane for making his own molasses and also have a few colonies of bees to supply home needs for honey. These purest of sweets are healthful and palatable and should be on the table of every farm home.

Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas Prison system with headquarters at Huntsville, returned to Sherman recently to preside as toastmaster for a dinner at the Hotel Grayson in honor of Mrs. Etta Davidson, Texas Woodmen Circle manager. Mr. Simmons is a former sheriff of Grayson county and secretary of the Sherman Chamber of Commerce, for several years. His record of efficiency in those possitions, is being maintained in a broader way as State Prison Manager. He has brought order, system and efficiency out of chaos in his management of the penitentiaries and state prison farms. All separate groups of political alignments among politicians in the state are equally loud in his praise.

Collin county banished saloons from her borders in an election held March 8, 1902, at which a pro majority of 1915 was recorded. Five years later, on July 13, 1907, the antis brought on another election in the hope of repealing county-wide local option and restoring the saloon. However, the pros again won in this election by an increased majority of more than 800 votes, the pros winning by 2,713 over the wets. This was the last county-wide election on the Prohibition question until the state-wide election of August 26, 1933, when a total of 4,476 votes were cast of which 3,205 were for upholding the Eighteenth Amendment and 1,271 for repeal, or, almost a three-to-one victory for Prohibition. And that too when wet victories are the fashion the world over.

When the rural free delivery system was established thirty-odd years ago a rural carrier started early in the morning from the McKinney postoffice and it required almost the entire day to traverse his route, generally then about 25 miles in length. Now the same carrier, who long ago abandoned the horse and buggy in favor of an automobile, covers twice the distance in some cases and serves several times the number of patrons in the space of 3 or 4 hours. The consolidation of rural routes is progressing rapidly and annual savings amount to several millions of dollars. Improvement of country roads and the use of the automobile has made the saving possible.

PERSONALS

The happy young couple will continue to reside in East Collin. Both are members of well-known families in the East part of the county. Their friends congratulate them and wish for them many years of happy sailing on the matrimonial sea.

The Basement Barber and Beauty shoppe, of which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warden are proprietors, have a very attractive window display, on North Tennessee street, located just south of Wood's cafe. The display is featuring Fitch products, such as cosmetics, hair tonics, etc. The display is arranged in a motif of blue and silver, and draws the attention of every passerby. Mr. and Mrs. Warden have recently taken over this line of cosmetics, which is meeting with the approvel of everyone using same.

Marshall (Ike) Travillion, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Travillion, was surprised with a birthday dinner Tuesday, when his mother prepared the delicious luncheon. The guests included only the immediate family of Mr. and Mrs. Travillion as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Charles McTee, and Mrs. Doyce Williams of Dallas; Mesdames McTee and Williams being sisters of Marshall. Marshall holds a position with the Louis (Tires) Daniels store here. He has many friends to wish him much success and happiness in life.

A zone meeting of the Missionary Society members of the Methodist church was held Tuesday in the Methodist church, at Nevada. Among those attending from First church, McKinney, were Rev. Minor Bounds, pastor; Mrs. E. L. Burton, Mrs. Frank W. Emerson, Mrs. J. H. Elliott, Mrs. Wallace Hughston, Mrs. J. L. Bright, Mrs. J. S. Carlisle, Mrs. Naomi Woods, Mrs. Dick Allen. Mrs. Evans of Nevada presided. Mrs. E. L. Burton had a part on the program as did also Rev. Mr. Bounds.

Mrs. A. J. Martin of Melissa called Saturday afternoon to renew the Daily Courier-Gazette subscription for three months for her foster-mother, Mrs. S. D. Hatler, who is eighty-nine but still quite vigorous considering her age. She states that en route to McKinney, she brought Mrs. Hatler along with her to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mallow about a mile south of Melissa to spend the day with them. Mrs. Hatler and her late husband reared several orphans. Among them were Mrs. Martin and Mrs. John H. Mallow. No better soul ever lived than Mrs. S. D. Hatler.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from some synthetic, habit-forming cathartic may cause bowel strain, and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be corrected in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.

Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Member N. R. A.

Mrs. Susan Martin Dies At Snow Hill

Mrs. Susan Martin, widow of the late J. D. Martin, died at the home of her son, R. C. Martin, in the Snow Hill community Thursday, October 19, 1933, after an illness of several months.

Deceased was born in Tennessee, April 25, 1839, hence was 94 years, 5 months and 25 days old. She has made her home near Farmersville for the past fifty years.

Mrs. Martin, better known as Grandma Martin, was a member of the Christian church.

Funeral services were held at the Snow Hill Baptist church at two o'clock, October 20, conducted by Rev. J. R. Hilger and Rev. S. P. Benson. Interment in I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Active pallbearers were her granddaughters: Mrs. Downing, Mrs. Nettie Young, Mrs. Clara Long, Mrs. Clyde Johnson, Mrs. J. A. Bowden and Miss Jewell Martin.

Surviving are five sons and one daughter, fifty-five grandchildren, several great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Surviving children are: Richard Martin, Paris; J. B. Martin, Josephine; R. R. Martin, Oklahoma; Walter Martin, Fort Worth; R. C. Martin, Farmersville, and Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Celeste.

POST-SEASON GRID GAME HERE FRIDAY, DEC. 8

The annual post season football game between the McKinney High Lions and a McKinney team of former Lion all-stars has again been scheduled this year in the interest of a worthy cause by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. The date, according to Wayne Norman, chairman of the Jaycee committee to arrange for the game, has been set for Friday night, December 8, at 7:30 o'clock at Newsome field. Serving on this committee with Mr. Norman in arranging for this game are Coleman White and Lewis Gay.

The McKinney High Lions, of course, will be in splendid condition, the game being scheduled only a week after the closing of the season. The All-Stars this year will also be in good condition for this game, some of them working out now and the remainder expected to work out at least two weeks prior to the game.

McKinneyites are assured of a ell-played, hard-fought game.

McKinney fans will remember last year's all-star game when the two teams battled to a draw. Both the high school and the All-Stars will be out to break the tie this year, assuring a real grid contest for local citizens.

Thos. E. Craig, McKinney capitalist and large landholder, has been at Prosper for several days, overseeing some farm terracing that he is having done to help conserve soil and moisture of land that he owns in West Collin.

Mrs. Moran Hill, who has been ill for several months, is able to be out and improving rapidly.

ACTIVE RED CROSS WORKER

ORLIA J. MOSS

Federal Aid to Poor Is Handled Without Expense in County

As the Red Cross Annual Roll Call is now practically opening up in Collin County, It is well for our 47,000 people in the county to consider what the organization has meant to the county during the present year to say nothing of previous years. Former County Tax Assessor Orlia J. Moss consented to take the county Roll Call chairmanship one year ago. It was a difficult place to fill under existing conditions incident to the depression that was then prevailing, but he did the best he could and made a fine showing. He enlisted local directors at a number of points in the county.

After the Roll Call was completed, a total of 600 to 700 members were enrolled at an average of $1 per membership. Mr. Moss gave freely of his time and his labor in getting about over the county for which he charged nothing. However the County Chapter paid between $7 and $8 on his gasoline, postage, and telephone tolls. In other words, he did the job at an expense of less than $8.00 for the Red Cross County organization. This was a most liberal donation of his time, labor and personal expense incident to the wear and tear of his car and otherwise.

Also a reminder to the public of what the Red Cross has meant to the county thus far during the year, 1933, it can be stated that a total of between seven and eight carloads of flour valued around $8,000 was distributed to the needy poor, the unemployed and those dependent on others for support. This represents 11,600 twenty-four-and-a-half pound sacks of flour. This flour, through the influence of the local Red Cross, was milled right here at McKinney and, in addition, a number of carloads besides were milled here that were shipped to other counties in the state. Thus providing labor for Collin county people who needed the work.

In addition to these factors of aid to our needy people and the laboring class, fully $10,000.00 worth of clothing was also distributed to those who needed wearing apparel and were unable to provide it for themselves.

Mr. Moss was named as County Red Cross Distribution Agent in allocating both the flour and the clothing to the following central points in the county: McKinney, Farmersville, Plano, Renner, Blue Ridge, Pike-Desert, Westminster, Anna, Melissa, Josephine, Nevada, Lavon, Copeville, Wylie, Murphy, Allen, Frisco, Celina, Weston, Princeton, Culleoka, Clearlake.

Each one of these places had a local set-up with a local chairman to whom the flour and clothing were allocated. These local community Red Cross workers did the distributing in a wise and equitable way among their own community dependents.

To give our readers an idea of the variety of clothing given to the county through the Red Cross distributing agency for the government we will just name a few of the items—bird's-eye, flannels, bleach flannel, sheeting, union suits, shirting, everglade prints, women's and men's hose, children's hose, ladies bloomers, infant clothing, children's work suits, men's union suits, infant's hose, men's trousers, men's highback overalls, men's worksocks, men's holf hose, boy's highback overalls, men's jumpers, coat sweaters, pull-on sweaters and other styles of sweaters, blankets, comforts, 15,000 yards of raw materials and other items of apparel for men, women and children.

Mr. Moss states that this distribution has been accomplished with not more than $3 or $4 expense. The Red Cross is under obligations to Chs. M. Cooper and Fletcher B. Pope for free rent for warehousing this merchandise that the organization distributed.

Also to W. L. Fitzgerald's valuable help. Mr. Moss says he has had splendid cooperation from many individuals who were willing workers to help him. He also appreciates the fine spirit that Ray Ashley, Riley Myers and Bob Franklin have shown for helping to make deliveries, locally at McKinney free of expense to the Red Cross.

Mr. Moss is still on the job as general distributor to the local community distributors at various centers over the county. Of course, Mr. Moss cannot attend to the individual distribution to those who are being helped. As before said, the local distributor and his or her helpers hand out the clothing and the flour after the necessary investigations are made to see that the applicant is worthy.

Certainly, the Red Cross in view of this service to our county during the present year to say nothing of its help in such disasters as of the past as the Melissa and the Nevada cyclones, and other lesser disasters, richly deserves your gratitude expressed in a membership for the ensuing year, especially when a membership can be had for only a dollar.

Mr. Moss commends the love of humanity in the hearts of such men as Prof. W. S. Smith, county Red Cross Chapter chairman, and also County Red Cross Call Director, and Billy Abernathy, McKinney Roll Call Director, and other local community directors over the county. They deserve your sympathy an encouragement. Mr. Moss looks for a more generous enrollment from Armistice to Thanksgaving Day this year in the annual Red Cross Roll Call than ever before. At least, it should be.

Interurban Reduces Its Passenger Fares

About a month ago the Texas Electric Railway announced they would reduce their passenger fares to 2c a mile, effective November 1st, 1933. In talking with the representative of the Interurban they advised that since the reduction they have been showing increases in their passenger revenue. While the new rates have probably not been in effect long enough for them to reach definite conclusion, it is gratifying to note that so far their experiment has proved successful beyond their expectations.

An indication that the improvement may be of a permanent nature is the report from the operators of the cars that some of their old patrons have returned to them who have not ridden the interurban for several years prior to the reduction in the rate.

SCOTTY FORSYTH ON EUROPE'S HIGH TAXES

In commenting to this editor on the general complaint of high taxes on the part of citizens of this country, Jas. S. (Scotty) Forsyth called our attention to a news item in his old home paper, the Aberdeen (Scotland) Journal, of a recent issue. It chronicled the death of Lord Cowdray, a British millionaire, peer and philanthropist. The deceased was also an eminent engineer and contractor and one of the largest operators of the world in his line. His firm had executed contracts amounting to 43,000,000 pounds ($215,000,000). He was created a peer in 1915 on account of his pre-eminent and distinguished career in his profession and business. He died in 1927, leaving an estate valued at 4,000,000 pounds ($20,000,000). His estate was required to pay death duties or taxes to the amount of 1,600,000 pounds ($8,000,000). Three years later, his widow died leaving an estate valued 1,407,000 pounds ($7,035,000). The death duties on her estate collected by the government was 600,000 pounds ($3,000,000) and now the present peer's death calls for government death duties again.

Mr. Forsyth called our attention to the fact that the death duties on these big estates collected by the British government amounts to almost one half of their total value.

Mr. Forsyth also called our attention to the news item in the paper to the effect that the tax rate set for Kincardine County, Scotland, is eight shillings and eight pence on the pound ($5), and this is almost fifty per cent of the property value in taxes. Mr. Forsyth says that this big tax are all the taxes combined assessed and collected, and the tax is paid jointly by the landlord and tenant. Mr. Forsyth said to the editor, "After reading these news items, I am not sure that we, the citizens of Uncle Sam, know much about what a real tax burden is."

Mr. Forsyth also called our attention to another little news item in the same paper telling about an old man seventy-five years of age jumping into Inverness Harbor, Scotland, and rescuing a little three year old child for which heroic act he was given a Carnegie Hero medal, as well as a substantial sum of money as a fitting reward. The City Council held a special meeting to make these presentations to the hero and passed resolutions expressing pride in his citizenship and otherwise commending him.

Another news item in the same issue impresses us with the fact that the staunch old Scottish Presbyterians still highly regard the holy sabbath day. The news item tells about Premier Ramsey MacDonald flying to a point in France on the previous Sunday to unveil a memorial to the victime of the British R-101 disaster, and the North of Scotland's Lord's Day Observance association sent him the following message of regrets: "We are deeply grieved that you, acting in a representative capacity, we need hardly remind you that you implicate the whole nation and as conscientious citizens we can only protest in the strongest terms possible against your conduct on the date already mentioned. Yours respectfully, Joseph McCleod Rice, president; D. MacGregor, secretary."

FEW FIRES HERE IN RECENT WEEKS

The three fire alarms, answered in less than two hours, time here Wednesday, were the first fires in McKinney in several weeks, according to Chief J. S. McKinney. The first alarm, about 10:30 that morning, called the volunteer firemen to South Benge street, where a garage belonging to J. M. Andrews, was blazing. The flames were soon extinguished.

While the firemen were out on this call a second alarm called them to the rear of the Phillips-Taylor Variety store, where a burning box of trash caught a window on fire. This blaze was also put out before much damage was done.

The third alarm, about 1 p. m., brought out the firemen to the O. K. Wagon yard, where a quantity of hay and other feedstuff was destroyed when a barn there burned. Some insurance was carried on the born.

Some effective work was turned in by local firemen at the scene of each of these blazes Wednesday.

Mrs. Alice Tidwell (nee Mrs. Alice Taylor) of Celina, visited in our city Wednesday. For six years Mrs. Tidwell was district clerk of our county, making a most efficient officer. Her many friends were glad to see her while here.

EARLY HOLIDAY MAILING ASKED BY POSTMASTER

Because Christmas this year falls on Monday, Postmaster Wallace C. Wilson of the post office, urges McKinney and Collin county folks to mail their Christmas packages early this year. It has always been good policy to buy Christmas gifts and mail them, with plenty of time to spare, but this year, more than ever, it is necessary since these packages must arrive at their destination on Saturday before Christmas on Monday, to be delivered. McKinneyites are therefore urged to mail their packages early, keeping this fact in mind.

Postmaster Wilson says that the usual accommodations for the Christmas rush at the local post office will again be in force this year with extra clerks on duty with special desks in the lobby of the post office for stamps, insuring, special delivery, parcel post and other items attendant to the Christmas mailing.

Since Christmas comes on Monday there will be two successive days when packages will not be delivered—on Sunday and on Christmas day, making it imperative that packages get to their destination on Saturday.

200 MEN ARE PUT TO WORK IN CITY TOD

About 200 men went to work McKinney today, at least 80 were given employment in P and other Collin towns will add more men to payrolls a part of the Civil Works Adm tration, designed to add sev million on the payrolls in nation. The men, employed are under the supervision Mayor Joe E. Largent and City Commission and Cou Judge J. Frank Harrington the County Commissioners Co Federal money is used to pay wages and its cost is not b defrayed by local taxpayers donations.

The men added to payrolls Thursday are being employed McKinney streets, helping to c up the city. Their assist along this line is doubly ap ciated, since McKinney entere city-wide clean-up campaign day, under the supervision Mayor Largent and City C missioners Add G. Wilson and M. Bryan.

Government Will Pay 120 Million to Cotton Growers

According to County Farm Agent Jack McCullough, the new cotton plan to be offered growers who sign government contracts for 1934-35 provides for total payments of $120,000,000 of which 90 millions are to be paid in the form of land rentals and 30 millions in "party" payments. This information comes from C. A. Cobb, chief of the cotton section of the Agricultural Adjustment administration. In explaining details of the new plan to county farm and home demonstration agents at their annual meeting at A. & M. college last week Mr. Cobb emphasized that the plan is not yet in its final form and may be modified later.

Agent McCullough declared that, as tentatively set up in the plan, land rentals will be paid on retired cotton acres at the rate of 3 cents per pound for the average five-year production. Land producing an average of 125 pounds of lint per acre for the years 1928-32, for instance, would be entitled to a rental of $3.75 per acre. The minimum payment would be $2.25 per acre for a production of 75 pounds of lint per acre, and the highest would be $14 per acre.

Rentals to Land Owners.

Land rentals payments are expected to go to land owners, with landlords making satisfactory arrangements with tenants. In the case of large properties, where fewer tenants may be needed next year, the government will probably urge landlords to allow the dismissed tenants to remain in their houses and to work food and feed crops for their living out of the retired acres. For other necessities tenants may be able to work as day laborers for the landlord.

"Parity" Payment.

"The "parity" payment promised is one cent per pound for 40 per cent of the average five-year production. It may be more. There is expected to be 30 millions of dollars available for these parity payments on 6 million bales of cotton, or $6 per bale. This money is to be divided among the contract signers. The parity payment is expected to be divided between landlord and tenant according to their existing share agreements. A third and fourth tenant, for example, would get three-fourths of this payment or about $3.75 per allotted bale.

Full details of the new plan will be avilable in the counties late in November and county agents have been asked to complete the sign-up campaign by January 15th.

Land rented by the United States government in contracts with cotton, wheat, and corn growers may not be used directly or indirectly to grow crops that may create surpluses in other lines of production, it was repeated again by Dr. J. F. Cox, chief of the replacement crops division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, in his talks to county farm and home demonstration agents at the annual Extension Service meeting at Texas A. & M. college last week.

Use of Retired Acres.

"Retired acres may be put to any use that will make them better productive acres, or to the production of food and feed crops for home consumption, he said. "They may be planted to cover crops for turning under to enrich the soil or for holding the soil to check erosion. They may be sown to permanent pastures in part or in all," Dr. Cox continued, "but after the pasture is established next year and is furnishing grazing an equal number of acres must be retired from some other part of the farm. Where a farmer is not already devoting an acreage to the production of food and feed crops for farm consumption these Government rented acres may be planted such crops.

"If certain home food crops are not produced on the farm, surpluses of other crops grown on retired acres may be exchanged for needed food supplies. For example, a farmer and his family may have more tomatoes than they need and lack fruits. They may trade tomatoes for fruit.

"On the other hand, a farmer who signs a contract may not use the retired or contracted acreage for home food and feed crops and then turn around and plant the acres formerly used for food and feed to some cash crop or to a feed crop to be sold through livestock.

Is Acreage Retirement.

"The whole idea of farm relief is to take 40 million acres [illegible] tion is merely shifted from one cash crop to another the aim of the act is defeated. Vegetable growers, for example, have plenty of trouble in marketing their crops without having a lot of cotton farmers turn to vegetable growing on land which the government has already rented. It is a great cooperative movement which depends for its success on the loyalty of farmrs in keeping the letter and the spirit of the contracts."

Purpose of Plan.

The general intent of the government in its farm relief activities is to bring the purchasing power of the principal farm commodities up to their pre-war level or parity. For the portion of the cotton, wheat, corn and hog crops consumed in the United States this parity price is to be obtained by subsidies obtained from processing taxes. The remainder of the annual production is expected to rise in price because of the reduction in production obtained as a part of the contracts signed by farmers with the government.

"Parity" Is Explained.

"Parity" is explained as the purchasing power farm commodities had in the "good old days" of 1909-14. During that period farmers were generally prosperous, prices were regarded as satisfactory, and everything the farmer sold was in fair adjustment with the prices he paid for goods. The prices now sought as "parity" are not necessarily the prices that obtained from 1909 to 1914 but are prices large enough to make farmers' products exchange for the same amount of manufactured goods they did in that period. In the case of cotton the parity price is estimated at about 15 cents per pound and the parity wheat price is placed at about $1 on the farm.

Domestic Allotment Plan.

The general plan by which these parity prices are being obtained for farmers is known as the domestic allotment plan, explains Agent McCullough. On the portion of these crops domestically consumed processing taxes have been levied by the government for payment to farmers who sign contracts restricting their acreages in these crops. This acts in much the same way as the tariff which has long given a subsidized market to American manufacturers for that part of their output domestically consumed. The remainder of the farmer's production is expected to move into foreign trade in free competition with that of other countries. As this export surplus is reduced by restricted acres in America the world price is expected to rise until such time as production gets into complete adjustment with demand and the prices of the entire farm output come up to parity.

The new sign-up campaign will begin soon, Agent McCullough explains.

Banquet Honors Mrs. Davidson, W. O. W. Director

Mrs. Etta Davidson, of Houston, manager and national director of Woodmen Circle, was honored with a dinner in the Grayson hotel in Sherman on Friday night, when more than 200 guests were present. Other prominent leaders in the order were present and had parts on the program as follows: Mrs. Mary E. LeRocca, national president, of Omaha, Nebr.; Mrs. Jeanie Willard of Denison national vice-president and drill instructor; Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley, national secretary and Mrs. Margaret G. Meadows, manager of Oklahoma and nationl director.

Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas prison system, who was manager of the Sherman Chamber of Commerce at the time the national home was located in that city, was toastmaster of the evening and reviewed the work of the national officers with Sherman's committee, laying emphasis on the Texas members' share in the selection of Sherman for the home site. The Sherman Grove, of which Mrs. Vernon Meador is guardian, was hostess on the occasion. Mrs. Meador presented Mrs. Davidson with a lovely bouquet of chrysanthemums during the evening.

ANNA

Miss Lula Estep

In the death Saturday, November 11, of Jones Austin Smith, 84, blacksmith and woodworker, Anna lost one of its most worthy Christian citizens. He had been ill for sometime. He was born, February 1, 1849, in Russell county, Kentucky, was the son of Henry and Mary Smith.

He married Miss Elizabeth Thomas, in November, 1867, in the state of Kentucky who died soon after the family moved to Texas in 1890. Six years later he married a second time. He was a devout member of the Baptist church and a faithful member of the Masonic fraternity.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Anna Baptist church conducted by his pastor, Rev. M. M. Barnett, assisted by Dr. G. O. Key of McKinney and Rev. A. L. Leake of Plano. Burial followed in Old Highland cemetery. Pallbearers were H. G. Giles, L. H. Goforth, W. L. Roper, J. D. Mote, J. T. Shaw and James Laud Rattan. One of his children is Prof. W. S. Smith of McKinney, former county superintendent of schools.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary Ellen McDonough and the following children: W. S. Smith, McKinney; S. R. Smith, Collinsville; S. J. Smith, of Anna; Mrs. C. A. Morgan, Mrs. W. G. Strother and Miss Mary Smith, all of Anna. Two sons have died, Dr. Paul Smith, and Henry Smith. Ten children and fourteen great-grandchildren are left with these other relatives to mourn his passing. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in North Collin.

J. T. Lemmond, who lives near Lucas on Route 2, Wylie, was a business caller at our office Tuesday. He is preparing for his farm sale of livestock, farm tools and implements to be held at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, November 23, as advertised elsewhere in the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette. While in the office, Mr. Lemmond subscribed for two copies of the Weekly Democrat-Gazette, one of them to go to his daughter, Route, 2, Wylie, and the other one to his brother, J. H. Lemmond, Portales, New Mexico. Soon after his farm sale, Mr. Lemmond is planning to leave on a trip that will include visits to his brother, G. R. Lemmond, at Loving, Young county, Texas; his sister, Mrs. T. J. Johnston, and family, at Haskell, Texas, and then go on to New Mexico to visit some weeks with his brother living there. his editor has known Mr. Lemmond for twenty years and has always found him to be a man of his word in business dealings and otherwise.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kerby of Corpus Christi are visiting relatives for a few days.

Alfred Perkins, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell F. Perkins, is improving from an attack of tonsilitis.

THANKSGIVING

ON THIS DAY OF THANKSGIVING

Almighty Father of us all, giver of life and searcher of hearts, we thank Thee for the bounteous harvest of other seasons and for the chastening challenge of this year; for teaching us anew that all is not speed and greed; that the spiritual as well as the material is our daily need, the Golden Rule and not the rule of gold will bring "Peace on Earth to All Men of Good Will."

May we in this season of Thanksgiving wish for our friends and patrons a day of joy, peace and contentment.

LOCAL PROJECT IS APPROVED BY SECRETARY ICKES

Mayor Joe E. Largent received a telegram at 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon from R. A. Thompson, state engineer, as follows:

McKinney Gets $51,000.

"Administration approved loan and grant, $51,000 for waterworks."

In commenting to a representative of this paper soon after getting this favorable message, Mayor Largent stated that thirty per cent or $15,300 of the $51,000 is a grant or a gift to the city that will not have to be repaid. This leaves $35,700 government loan to the city of a self-liquidating nature that will have to be repaid in fifteen years. It is to be paid out of the profits or water rents at the rate of around $300 per month, but government engineers figure that the new waterworks improvements should save the city from $450 to $500 per month providing an adequate water supply, if obtained as expected from the Trinity sands, is obtained and the well is adequately equipped with the new type turbine pump that is contemplated and approved by the government engineers.

Mayor Largent immediately forwarded a telegram to Washington, inquiring about the time that the $51,000 loan becomes available. He and Commissioners Add G. Wilson and Chas. M. Bryan are anxious to get work started on the deep well that will be from 2800 to 3000 feet deep by the time it penetrates the Trinity sands. The new well is expected to yield around 700 gallons of water per minute in addition to that provided by the four wells that the city already owns that are from 1100 to 1200 feet deep and that only to the woodbine sands.

It is planned to duplicate the water main from the pump station to the public square with a 12-inch water main and also lay down several thousand feet of six-inch water main used in connecting dead ends and expansions in our city waterworks system.

This increased water supply and increase in water main capacity will supply an abundance of water to take care of the future growth and expansion of the city and will immediately bring about a substantial saving in the McKinney insurance key rate that will help every property owner of the city who pays fire insurance premiums amounting to several thosand dollars per year.

Mayor Largent and Commissioners Bryan and Wilson have had the assistance in their efforts to successfully negotiate this loan from the Federal Public Works fund of the National Government by the influence and assistance of such faithful public officials like Congressman Rayburn, State Senator Joe M. Moore and others, the local Chamber of Commerce who have helped to put over the project that means so much to the present and future progress of McKinney.

Representative Federal Savings And Loan Ass'n.

Francis S. Mason, field organizer of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, D. C., was here for several days, helping to organize the McKinney Federal Savings & Loan association. This editor met him while he was in the city and can understand why success crowns his efforts in the highly important work that he is doing to help restore the country to normal business conditions again. In a personal letter, written to this editor from the Baker hotel, Dallas, dated November 16, he said,

"I want to express to you, most sincerely, my appreciation for your thoughtful and personal courtesy. Your helpful attitude and cooperation assisted very materially, all of which redounds to the benefit of the whole community, which I am sure was the object of your main concern.

"Also, a deserving tribute should be paid to your Chamber of Commerce, and its splendid manager, W. Hammond Moore. The great possibilities of Federal Savings were instantly recognized. At once, forceful leadership was made available. To furnish this type of service is one of the main reasons for an efficient Chamber. You certainly have one in McKinney. Through the activity of Mr. Moore, an outstanding group of citizens were brought together, and the organization began to assume form. This one opportunity for service, of which advantage was taken, can easily be worth more to the community than the cost of operating the Chamber for a whole year.

The temporary officers, Jas. H. Merritt, as president; F. D. Perkins, as vice-president, and T. E. Craig, as secretary, and their associates, C. H. Ray, Judge F. E. Wilcox, Mayor Joe E. Largent, Sam J. Massie, H. S. Ware, Leo Spillman, H. H. Standley and A. M. Scott will have the wholehearted support of all progressive citizens. This is evident from the subscription lists for shares, which were signed by forty-nine prominent men and women, reserving for themselves $28,200 in amount, and pledging over $3,500 in cash to be paid after charter is granted. This support is a foundation upon which to build a great institution for your territory. These lists should forever be preserved in the archives of Collin county to stand as evidence of faith and the will-to-do."

wl Club "Press Day" Observed Here Friday At Home Of R. D. Erwin

AN OF COLLIN COUNTY WOMEN CLUBS HONORS NEWSPAPER MEN AND WOMEN—MRS. L. C. CLIFTON PRESIDENT IN CHAIR—MRS. GARNETT, Mrs. J. C. ERWIN AND MRS. K. D. THOMPSON PAY TRIBUTE TO JOURNALISM.

(CONTRIBUTED)

When Greeks joined Greeks e was the tug of war" (a le of flowers) when the Owl and the Press met on the dule "Press Day" of the club o honor to the editors, their s and the young journalists he Fourth Estate.

ecognizing, as Mrs. J. C. Er- expressed it, that of all the ences for good and the up- of mankind, the press ranks to the church as it stead- y, silently and like a leaven s,

.The people's rights to maintain
w'd by influence, unbrib'd by gain
Patriot Truth her glorious precepts draw.
Pledged to Religion, Liberty and Law."

Mrs. Clifton, as president, said the Owls had looked forward to this day as a feeble gesture toward liquidating an indebtedness of long standing and to have this opportunity to express their appreciation of the long, faithful efficient and unstinted service to the people of McKinney, Collin county and the state.

According to printed programs, Walter B. Wilson, one of the editors of the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette was introduced and as a speaker he wields a Damascus blade of no mean steel and his first thrust was a compliment to the Owls. In this encounter there was no feint, no foil, no parry and thrust, but struck straight at the most vital part. The heart of his adversary. The victory was his. "I know of no group of women," he said, "whom I could classify above the Owl club ladies individually or as a club in intellectual gifts, profound knowledge and broad wisdom of life and in all the queenly culture that can adorn womankind—the crowning handiwork of God's creative genius. Consequently it is with no small degree of misgivings I attempt to supply this part of your today's program. It was altogether fitting," he said, "for the Owl club or any other group of women to manifest interest in journalism with which profession women have had so much to do in establishing in the past and in carrying along in its every department in this modern day." He referred to the first daily in the English language, the Daily Courant, that was established and edited by Elizabeth Mallet, a woman, circulated in England and many copies distributed through the American colonies. Women newspaper workers are to be found on papers, both large and small, throughout the nation as publishers, editors, reporters, staff writers, business office and executives. He then proceeded to the discussion of newspapers, the art preservative, which he has made his life work and which he adorns and glorifies. In his genial, slow-speaking, unhurried way, he held the individual attention of his audience as he entertained and edified. To quote a few excerpts he said:

The story of the newspaper from its inception to the present time, is a story of progress and development almost without counterpart. While the first paper is credited to the Roman period, several centuries before the Christian era, yet journalism is comparatively a modern development. In reality, the so-called first newspaper was only a written bulletin. While there was only one newspaper in what is now the United States in 1704, there are today more than 18,000 papers of all kinds published in the United States doing a billion dollar annual business. The newspaper has been compared to glasses through which the stranger or prospective inhabitant views and estimates the community or city which it represents. The interest of a city and its local press are identical. Therefore, the first thought of the editor, even if he be selfish, should be the present and future welfare development of his home city and county. The newspaper has been likened unto a map of life on which are sketched its varied fluctuations, both good and bad. The paper is responsible for the reporting of news, but should not be held accountable for their transpiring. It is a fact that newspapers play an important part in our individual and national life. But, how many of us have stopped to try to establish just what degree of importance they do bear for us? Have any of you ever visualized what our country without a newspaper would be like? No less authority than the immortal Jefferson said, "I had rather live in a country with newspapers and without government than in a country with government and without newspapers."

Mr. F. C. Thompson of the Weekly Examiner followed next on the program. His forte as a speaker or writer is his ability to mix pleasantries with pathos. He remarked at the outset that as a child he was afraid when he heard the hoot of an Owl, but now he had learned to love them. The title of his subject was "30" and the first part of his thoroughly enjoyable discourse was an amusing play upon the word. The latter, explaining how "30" designates "The End" or "Finis"—the chapter is finished, and the printer closes up his case, folds his apron and takes an assignment from "the Master of all good workmen" of a higher type. Both speakers received the spontaneous and generous applause.

"To the Press, culture yields, with grace, her shining blade."

Mrs. Garnett's Tribute.

I had not anticipated having honors thrust upon me today by being permitted to appear, even briefly, on a program with our honored guests, the representatives of the press. But, I am very happy to have this opportunity to express to them, in any measure, the debt of appreciation and gratitude we have long owed them, as citizens, as a club, and personally, as individuals.

Mr. Wilson has told us of the influence, the power and the responsibility of the metropolitan press, the so-called "Fourth Estate" and these are true. But, it is of the loyalty, generosity, friendliness and great-heartedness of our local press that I want to speak. No enterprise for the benefit of our town has lacked its spontaneous and enthusiastic support. Our business, our schools, our churches, our pleasures and our problems have enlisted its deep interest and earnest cooperation. Our papers have certainly pulled for McKinney.

I doubt if any other town in Texas—or elsewhere—could equal their continued loyalty and respect.

No phase of our social life has been overlooked by them. Our civic, literary and social clubs, our church, patriotic, fraternal and benevolent societies, can bear witness to their interest and aid. Because we, the Owl club, have so long enjoyed it, we feel that we owe them an especial debt of gratitude. In the years of our life, no work has passed during our sessions without more than generous space in their columns devoted to our programs. No especially worthy act of ours has escaped their favorable comment, with many and gracious voluntary tributes to our club's contributions to our community through its influence, its talent and its culture. In the forty years of our organization, their favors have been poured out to us in unstinted measure, and I am sure they have freely given us perhaps thousands of dollars worth of valuable space without money and without price.

As individuals, they have rejoiced with us in our honors and our joys; and when deep sorrow has cut our hearts, we have felt the kindly human touch of their sympathy and thus they have united us in a common interest in each other, in our community and in our papers themselves. We wonder how we ever get along without them, even without a daily paper or a single issue; for when we are away from home especially, the arrival of the home paper is more welcome than all the metropolitan dailies, just like a letter from home. Several years ago, when I was very ill, among strangers in a distant city, "our" little paper issued bulletins as if I were the president, and when it arrived, lying there in my illness and weakness, I almost felt that I was—or the President's wife, at least.

Doubtless, everyone in this room can revert in memory to some such incident of kindness and interest on their part. Yes, our local papers are our real friends; which is, after all, the great mission of humanity.

Mrs. K. D. Thompson added to this sentiment a well-chosen contribution of her own. Mrs. George Wilcox, detained at home by illness, sent the following:

Madam President, Owl club: "Nothing but that gaunt spectre, illness, could prevent my being one of you this day to give homage to this distinguished and beloved coterie of McKinney's most literary and useful citizenship known as "The Press." How comforting to know they are friends, tried and true. If we see our names in the papers rest assured the press chronicles to the world our noble deeds and never mentions our faults. Each member of the press and his or her family are our personal friends and do credit to our city and county. Best wishes to them, our gracious hostess and the Owl club.—Mrs. George Wilcox."

Lovely chrysanthemums were sent to the Owls by Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Smith in lieu of their attendance. The handsome Robert Erwin home on Church street was the scene of this happy occasion and as host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin are much given to most gracious hospitality. Delightful refreshments were served and special guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Wilson, Mrs. Clint Thompson, Mr. F. C. Thompson, Mrs. Tom W. Perkins, Mrs. Burkett, Mrs. W. H. Sims, Mrs. Belle McWilliams, and Miss Hattie Erwin.

OVER $650,000 RECEIVED BY COLLIN FARMERS

A total of 4,067 checks, totalling $651,008.85 have been received by County Farm Agent Jack McCullough and turned over to Collin county cotton farmers who participated in the recent government plow-up campaign to reduce this year's acreage.

Agent McCullough says that there are yet 128 checks to be received in this county, amounting to $20,608.00, before all farmers, who co-operated in the acreage reduction plan, are paid in full. The county agent also points out that approximately $500,000 is yet to be received by 2,500 farmers for their option cotton. Option contracts have not yet arrived, but should be here in the near future.

Agent McCullough declares that the difference of five-cent cotton and ten-cent cotton caused by the plow-up campaign has been worth to Collin County cotton farmers $1,700,000.00. This years crop is estimated to be around 68,000 bales for the county. This increase in the price of cotton caused by the plowing up of 60,000 acres and approximately 30,000 bales of cotton is certainly a point that should not be overlooked.

Lat Chandler, an expert painter and paperhanger, is being kept pretty busy this fall. He has recently finished repainting the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stewart on West Hunt street, giving it two coats of white paint. He also recently did some repapering and canvassing for Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Franklin of the Bloomdale community; also, some repapering and repainting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kerr at the corner of North Church and West Heard streets, this city.

REV. G. O. KEY AND WIFE HONORED ON HUNTSVILLE VISIT

Rev. and Mrs. G. O. Key of this city have recently returned from Huntsville where they spent several days on a delightful visit with their daughter, Mrs. T. S. Montgomery, and husband. While there Rev. and Mrs. Key were honored with a lovely tea, the occasion being their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary. The following item of the event appeared in the Huntsville Item:

COUPLE HONORED ON WEDDING DATE

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Montgomery entertained in the late hours of Wednesday afternoon in honor of a most unusual occasion, the fifty-sixth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. G. O. Key of McKinney, parents of Mrs. Montgomery. Guests were drawn from friends of Rev. and Mrs. Key.

Autumn hues prevailed in the home decoration, yellow chrysanthemums and cosmos being used in the living room, pink roses, delphinium and carol vine arranged in a good bowl which had been a gift at the golden wedding anniversary of the couple, rested on a reflector on the lace laid table. Brass candle sticks, gifts on the same occasion years ago, were filled with pink whips. An epergne which had belonged to Mr. Montgomery's mother and which is more than fifty years old, was filled with pink roses and graced the buffet.

An interesting feature of the tea was the use of china and other service pieces that have a sentimental value in the family. One relish dish used is more than one hundred years old. The plates and tea service were from the set of china given Rev. and Mrs. Key on their twentieth wedding anniversary.

Ribbon sandwiches, old fashion pound cake, salted pecans and tea were served, Mrs. S. Jackson pouring and Miss Katheren Key assisting in serving. Mrs. Ben Young delighted the guests during the receiving hours by reading two very appropriate poems, one from Sidney Lanier, My Springs; the other written for an anniversary of like nature, Together by Elaine Emans. The honorees received many messages, gifts and flowers from both out of town and Huntsville friends in rememberance of the day.

A. T. Raper, former county commissioner and tax collector, who has been critically ill at his home on North Church street for several weeks, is regaining his health slowly, and friends and relatives believe he will soon be up and about again.

Clifford Thomas Jr., who has been taking a rest cure for the past month, is feeling better and is able to be out some each day.

T. J. Lane underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils Tuesday afternoon. He is recovering nicely.

PROMINENT VISITOR

DR. CHAS. W. CASTNER
of Wichita Falls, Tex.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN AND HOSPITAL SUPT.

DR. CHAS. W. CASTNER, WIFE AND DAUGHTER McKINNEY VISITORS

Mrs. W. W. Tollett, who recently moved to McKinney from Lavon and resides at 108 South Waddill street, has as guests for the week-end, her son-in-law, Dr. Chas. W. Castner, superintendent of the Wichita Falls State Hospital, wife and daughter, Miss Edahjane. They came in Friday. Mrs. Castner was born and reared on the big farm of her father, the late W. W. Castner, prominent Southeast Collin farmer and landholder when he died two or three years ago, and her mother who recently moved to McKinney.

Dr. Castner was practicing physician for four years at Lavon where they married. He then became connected with the State Insane Asylum at Terrell, later was made superintendent of the State Hospital at Rusk for about four years and then superintendent of the Southwestern State Hospital at San Antonio.

In September, 1925, he was transferred to Wichita Falls and placed in charge of the new state hospital plant and institution that had just been built there and which started off with only 200 patients. It has been constantly enlarged under his expert supervision until now it contains 2,050 patients. Dr. Castner says that an appropriation has been made for the erection of another big addition in 1934 that will enlarge this capacity by 200 more.

He is regarded as one of the ablest and most successful superintendents among the state hospitals for the treatment of the mentally afflicted of our great commonwealth.

Mrs. Castner is a sister of Carl Tollett, prominent Lavon citizen, and also of Mrs. Frank Geren, of Lavon, and of Mrs. Leonard Montgomery who lives near Copeville.

Both of these editors have enjoyed the friendship of Dr. Castner for many years and were happy to see him in our city again and to receive a welcome business call from him while down town.

Death of Mrs. Brodhead

Mrs. Frank Brodhead died at the family residence, Wednesday, Nov. 1, 1933, at 9:15 a. m., after a three months' illness. Her passing is a great loss to her community and her church as well as to her loved ones. She accepted Christ as her Saviour in early childhood and lived an active, devout Christian life. To really know her was a privilege. She had within her the ability to teach, lead and build and was ever ready to pass her knowledge to one and all unselfishly. The beautiful floral offering was a sweet reminder of her clean, useful life.

Funeral services were held at the home, Thursday, Nov. 2, by Revs. Brown and McGown. Interment following in Restland Memorial Park. Beside her bereaved husband, the deceased is survived by two sons, Janes and John. Three sisters also survive, Mrs. Fred Carter, Mrs. Eddie Calvin and Miss Florence Janes, all of Madill, Oklahoma, to all of whom sincere sympathy is extended.

Active pallbearers were M. F. Sims, Chuck H. Robbins, R. A. Dickerson, A. W. Richards and A. Clarke of Allen and Charlie Miller of Waxahachie.

FRANKLIN HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB IS ACTIVE

The Franklin Home Demonstration club won the prize of "Longan's Parlimentary Rules Made Easy," for having the best attendance with a monthly report at the county association meetings during the past year. This book was awarded to the club at the county association meeting on November 11, by Byron England, county treasurer, who reviewed the history of the Franklin club and gave special mention to a number of influential individuals in that community. This book, when won by the same club for three successive years, becomes its permanent property.

The Franklin club is one of the older clubs of the county, it having been organized in April, 1923, with eighteen charter members. Six of these women are still members, while the others have moved away or have been taken by death. Mrs. W. W. Thomasson, the first president, now holds that office, while Mrs. J. T. Isom is the secretary. Mrs. Isom has held some office in the club practically each year since it was organized. This club also has the honor of furnishing the president of the county association, Mrs. J. T. Isom. She was for two years secretary of that organization.

A Charter Member.

Mrs. Claude Foster, who helps her husband manage the county farm, was one of the charter members. It was in this club that she learned the foundation principles, as well as the modern methods of preserving foods. The many other things she learned in club work have made her an asset to her husband and to the county in her very responsible position. Through this previous training under the capable leadership of Mrs. Ed McGee, former home demonstration agent, she has helped very materially to cut down the living expenses of the farm and thus save money for the county. In order that more products could be conserved this year, two large canning retorts, two automatic sealers and a car load of cans and five hundred syrup pails were purchased with Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds. Mr. and Mrs. Foster superintend the canning of 9,879 containers of fruits, vegetables, pickles, kraut, jelly and preserves for use on the farm as well as for the needy of the county. In addition 360 gallons of syrup was made and much of it will be distributed among the needy this year. Soon they expect to can three beeves which will be used for food on the farm and for those in need of food at other places. The Franklin club is pleased that it had a part in helping to train so useful a woman as Mrs. Foster.

Build Club House.

These eighteen charter members realized at the beginning, before the individual members owned their canning equipment, that they would be able to can more and the meetings would be better attended if they had a central meeting place. For that reason they built a club house and equipped it for canning. This was a real adventure for eighteen women, since it cost them about $550.00. Nevertheless, today, they feel repaid for having taken this risk, since they learned to dress more appropriately, to live more economically and to feed their families the foods that would keep them healthy. These families now own individual canning equipment and do their own conserving of foods in their homes, while the club house is still the meeting place, as it is centrally located.

Worthy Organization.

The Franklin Home Demonstration club is considered one of the important organizations of that community. The members are continually being called upon to wait upon the sick, needy and bereaved about them. They take active parts in entertainments, programs, and help serve community dinners several times during the year. The women are often asked to help people in adjoining communities to can. This year they have a record of having helped people to can 1,000 containers. Mrs. J. T. Isom, this year has canned 375 of these containers for others. This year they influence of extension work in other communities by giving demonstrations to groups and by answering questions for 175 different families.

This club has always done its part in helping to show club work to others. During its ten years of existence, it has held five community fairs and has brought exhibits to the county fair for nine different years. The community is proud of its club and the members are happy to be able to live comfortably at home during these times of depression, owing to the fact that they have received training that enables them to live more economically.

J. Walter Lacy has returned from a visit to his father, W. W. Lacy, and his sister, Mrs. J. R. Gaines, and husband, at Nocona, Texas. These relatives moved to the latter place from McKinney just a few weeks ago and are keeping posted on old home McKinney news and Collin county happenings by reading the Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Haydon Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bullock and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kitching held open house Friday night in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Haydon, the occasion being in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Haydon, who on Saturday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. About a hundred and fifty guests called during the evening.

The home was adorned with a profusion of flowers, huge yellow chrysanthmums being banked on mantels and arranged in floor vases and baskets throughout the reception hall.

The dining room was decorated with rose and lavender chrysanthemums and pots of ferns. The table was laid with a lovely lace cloth over yellow satin, the centerpiece being an arrangement of the chosen flowers in rose and lavender hues. Here delightful refreshments were passed.

During the evening Prof. C. M. Duvall delighted the guests with a group of old songs, including "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Miss Irene Marley was accompanist at the piano. Miss Nina Thompson read "Heap o' Living" by Edgar A. Guest, which was also enjoyed.

Mr. Haydon was born in Neosleo, Mo., while Mrs. Haydon was born in Hamburg, Iowa. They were married in Ruby Valley, November 18, 1883. The couple have made McKinney their home many years, Mr. Haydon ing been engaged in the gro business here and at other p in the county. Merchants To Close All Day Thanksgiving

Following their annual custom of the last several years, McKinney merchants will close their doors all day Thanksgiving, Nov. 30, giving employer and employe a day off in which to enjoy the holiday—one of the most important on the calendar. Thanksgiving will be observed here this year with a Thanksgiving union church service that morning, at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Minor Bounds, pastor of the First Methodist church, will deliver the message.

Of course, everyone in the city will participate in a big Thanksgiving dinner, while after that a large number of local townspeople will journey out to Newsome field to see the McKinney High Lions and Gainesville High Leopards in their final district gridiron battle.

A large number of out-of-town residents will come here to spend the day with homefolks.

JACK ESTES IS HONORED WITH VICE PRESIDENCY

Frank Cates of Bartlett was elected president of the Texas Editorial association which closed its annual meeting in Houston Saturday. Cate is a veteran Texas editor and former member of the legislature. Jack Estes of the Dallas News was elected first vice-president. Jack is a native of McKinney and began his newspaper career on this paper. Roy L. Miller, former publisher of the Corpus Christi Caller, gave a luncheon Saturday to the editors who at night heard Aimee Semple McPhearson, famous California woman evangelist, speak.

Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock the editors were the guests of the Imperial Sugar company at a dinner at the Houston club, at which Senator Walter Woodul was toastmaster. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M.; F. M. Law of Houston, president of the American Bankers' association, and Lee Simmons of Huntsville, general manager of the Texas prison system, were on the program.

An editorial experience of thirty years is requisite to membership in the Texas Editorial association.

FARMERS FIELD DAY SATURDAY EAST COLLIN

Farmers in the Farmersville area of East Collin have been urged by Superintendent P. L. Miller of the soil conservation work being done by the C. C. C. camp there to attend the Farmer's Field Day to be held there Saturday, November 26, beginning at 9:00 a. m. Mr. Miller says that many farmers do not understand the great value of the work the C. C. C. is doing and he is anxious to demonstrate same to them. They are also anxious to get work lined up a month ahead for the boys. Mr. Miller states that any permanent work done on a farm such as terrace ditches, permanent dams for gullies, etc. does not cost the landowner a penny, being furnished by the Federal government. However, the farmer is required to have his land in good condition, or up to the government specification, if work is to be done for him free of charge.

A. D. HOPE & SONS WILL CONTINUE SALE THIS WEEK

A. D. Hope & Sons, who have been conducting an auction and sale for the last two weeks, have decided to extend this sale through this week. However, the night auction will not be held as heretofore, but the store will offer the same attractive bargains as during the last two weeks. Many satisfied buyers haxe expressed the wish that Mr. Hope continue in order to give them and all those who failed to get waited upon, another opportunity to share in these wonderful bargains. They call your attention to this continuance through the advertising columns of this paper.

RAYBURN TO BE HONORED AT SHERMAN

Grayson county voters under the leadership of Will H. Evans, prominent business man, are planning to honor Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham at a reception in Sherman on Tuesday evening, November 28, at 7:30 o'clock, at which tmie he will speak in Sherman Hall. After the speaking, he will be given a reception on the first floor of the auditorium of that big Austin College building.

The Fourth Congressional district of Texas, ably represented by Mr. Rayburn, embraces the counties of Collin, Grayson, Fannin, Hunt, Rockwall, Rains and Kaufman. In the recent re-districting of the state, Mr. Rayburn's district was enlarged by the addition of the counties of Rockwall and Kaufman.

Mr. Rayburn's friends and constituents are proud of his record in Congress and the influence he exerts with President Roosevelt and the councils of the national Democratic administration. Mr. Evans, chairman, extends an urgent invitation from Sherman and Grayson county to voters of Collin county, both men and women, to attend the speaking and reception on the above occasion, honoring Mr. Rayburn.

PROHIBITIONISTS PLANNING FOR DRY LEGISLATURE

MEETING WILL BE HELD IN DALLAS FRIDAY, NOV. 17

Prohibitionists have organized under the name of Anti-Liquor Democrats of Texas and will launch plans at a mass meeting in Dallas, November 17, looking towards electing a dry legislature. The first meeting of the Anti-Liquor Democrats was held, October 23, at Arlington. Their Dallas session will be held in the Central Christian church Friday, November 17.

A statement issued Saturday by Rev. Harvey M. Redford of the First Christian church at Arlington explained the purpose of the Dallas meeting will be "to organize and enlist the antiliquor forces and Democratic party throughout the State, to organize every senatorial and legislative district in next year's election. Special efforts will be made to wrest the Democratic party from control of liquor forces by sending antiliquor representatives to the Legislature."

Chester B. Collins, Fort Worth attorney, will preside at the Dallas mass meeting. Rev. Mr. Redford will be secretary. The opening devotional at 9:45 a. m. will be Rev. W. R. White, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, after which Collins will outline the purpose of the meeting.

The initial address, "Liquor Control Following Repeal," will be Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas. After a general discussion, Dean Colby Hall of Texas Christian university will speak on "Lifting the Moral Standards of the Rising Generation." Another general discussion will follow.

At 1:30 p. m. Supt. Norman R. Crozier of the Dallas Public schools will discuss "The Crime Wave and the Way Out." Then a general discussion will be held. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor university, Waco, will speak at 2:30 p. m. on "Good Government in Texas."

Other speakers, whose subjects have not been announced, will be John M. Box, Jacksonville; Congressman Wright Patman, Texarkana; J. L. Ward, Decatur; Thomas B. Love, Dallas; Dr. J. D. Sandifer, president of Simmons university, Abilene; Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor college, Belton; Cullen F. Thomas, Dallas; Rev. L. N. D. Wells, Dallas; Rev. W. T. Rouse, Arlington; Rev. J. R. Nutt, Lufkin; Galloway Calhoun, Tyler, and W. F. Nelson, Mineral Wells.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Mr. Collins spoke over radio station KTAT at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and made one of the strongest speeches yet made by anyone for the cause of prohibition. Mr. Collins is an outstanding leader among the laymen of the state, who from the very start had the moral courage to take his stand with the dry forces. Back of this stand was the firm belief that prohibition is right, that its purpose is right and its ends worthy and honorable.

SERVICES HELD FRIDAY FOR GAIL BOOTH M'MICHAEL

A large concourse of friends and relatives attended the impressive funeral for Gail Booth McMichael, held in the chapel of the Massie & Son Funeral home on South Tennessee street here at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. G. O. Key, assisted by Dr. J. H. Cozad, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the services, speaking comforting words to the heart-broken parents and grandparents.

Interment was made in Highland cemetery, under the direction of Massie & Son Funeral home. Many beautiful floral offerings covered the grave of this sweet little child.

Active pallbearers were: Jack Price, John Gelino, Glen Walker Massie and Glen Morgan.

Gail Booth was 9 years and 27 days old at the time of her death, which occurred in Baylor hospital, Dallas, Thursday night, November 16, after a brief illness of pneumonia. A Good Citizen

A good citizen is one who supports his Government, as well as the forces for the upbuilding of his Home Town. We want the co-operation of every citizen of this community in increasing the efficiency of the power and light facilities in every direction, for only by the co-ordination of our efforts and by the support of our patrons can the Texas Power & Light Company succeed.

The public requires service to the end that the community may grow, develop and prosper. Without the service furnished by a proper, adequate, up-to-date system of electric power and light, no community can develop as it should. You are interested in the prosperity and consequent growth of your electric light and power system in order that your community growth and development may not be retarded.

As a Public Servant, with a whole community to serve, the Texas Power & Light Company recognizes that it has a public trust to discharge. It realizes that while the Company and the public have mutual obligations, the rights of the public must come first.

This Company is proud of the property as it stands today. It represents an achievement of thrift, good management and progressiveness. It thinks you should be proud of your electric power and light system. It believes that you are, and that every citizen who is open-minded and fair will be glad to help us rout ill with candor, confront prejudice with facts, and in the friendliest spirit help us face problems which only cordial co-operation can solve.

THE L. A. S. MEETS

One of the most enthusiastic meetings of the Ladies Aid Society was held Monday afternoon in the church with all officers present. Mrs. J. R. Frisby led the devotional. Theme for the lesson was "Finding God in Jesus Christ." Opening song, "Footprints of Jesus" led by Mrs. A. P. Dickerson with Mrs. W. S. Hitchcock at the piano. Psalm 19, led by Mrs. Frisby and read responsively.

Others assisting on the program were Mesdames Dickerson, Jordan, Thompson, Hitchcock and Scott. Closing prayer was by Mrs. Frisby. During a brief business session the secretary reported a cash donation of $1 from Mrs. P. L. Chandler. The society has recently had the church repapered. Windows repainted and a large coal heater installed. In behalf of the society, Mrs. Frisby gladly welcomed Mrs. O. S. Scott back after an absence of several months due to illness and as a pleasant surprise, Mrs. Scott was showered with flowers, roses and chrysanthemums in every hue and color.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the society:

Appreciation of the Rev. Sterck and Family

In its regular monthly meeting the Ladies Aid Society passed the following resolutions of appreciation. Rev. Thos. Sterck, who was for two years the most energetic and faithful pastor of the Chambersville M. E. church.

Whereas, Rev. Thos. Sterck having served as pastor of the M. E. church of Chambersville for the past has proven himself to be a true pastor, an earnest and efficient minister, and a faithful friend, and

Whereas, he has been called in the providence of God to new field of labor,

Therefore, be it resolved by the Chambersville Ladies Aid Society First: that we wish in this formal way to acknowledge our appreciation of his true worth as a man and minister; second, that we commend him and his estimable family to the confidence and Christian fellowship of the church and community to which he goes; third, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on our minutes; a copy mailed to him; a copy furnished to the county papers.

Respectively,
THE CHAMBERSVILLE LADIES AID SOCIETY.

Hunting wild swans is prohibited by Federal law throughout the United States and at all times, says Paul G. Redington, Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in a statement issued today (November 14) to counteract an erroneous report to the contrary being circulated in Atlantic Coast States. Persons apprehended killing or possessing swans are subject to prosecution in the Federal courts.

PRESIDING ELDER OCCUPIES PULPIT FIRST METHODIST

Dr. H. D. Knickbocker, presiding elder of the McKinney district, preached his first sermon in this district Sunday morning when he occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist church in this city for the pastor, Rev. Minor Bounds.

Dr. Knickerbocker was heard by a large crowd that almost completely filled the auditorium and Sunday school room of that church. He has been preaching for forty years during which time he has been called to some of the larger churches, not only in Texas, but in other Southern states.

He has traveled extensively abroad and is a highly educated, interesting and eloquent speaker. He informed his Sunday morning audience here that he had been a member of eight different conferences during his forty years' pastorate work. His subject was "Christ's Greatest Convert."

He said that the greatest convert was none other than the thief on the cross who was meeting his death side by side with Christ, who had been betrayed. He referred to St. Paul's conversion, but he said that St. Paul was not Christ's greatest convert, because on the cross there was nothing to suggest to the theif the glory and splendor of Christ. It was much more difficult at that time for the thief to believe in Jesus Christ, when practically all of his followers had deserted him, than it is today with thousands of eager followers.

The presiding elder narrated some of his own experiences, including his own conversion forty-two years ago when he told God, "I am going to live for you, because you died for me."

"Christ," said the speaker, "is the only immaculate and sinless character that ever lived." The character of Jesus forever forbids his classification with man.

Dr. Knickbocker declared that the thief made a great confession and that his admission of his sins was the only reason he was saved. It takes a big man to say, "I have sinned." Many are condemned but will not admit it. If we are to stand by Christ and his church, we must stand by Him now, especially at this critical time, and we must give, not according to ability, but according to Christ's needs.

"Don't tell Jesus you love Him, without a sacrificial love of the church in your heart.

"This is no time for duty, but for love—and love is above duty. We need to be His followers now. We need to confess Him, else He will deny us. The thief received a great reward for his confession. It is the reward I am looking for." tA this point in his sermon, Dr. Knickerbocker gave his impression of Heaven and declared that there is no substitute for it. He pictured Heaven like a garden of roses beside an old fashioned home, the gates, not of Pearl, but vine-covered like the gate of his grandmother's home. His earnest appeal provoked a high spiritual fervor over his congregation.

JOE W. BAILEY JR.

Congressman-At-Large Joseph Weldon Bailey Jr. of Dallas has announced as a candidate for the United States Senate from Texas, subject to the election in 1934. He is a son of Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, deceased. He is forty years of age, a university man and an overseas soldier in the World war. He is a young man of ability, and an orator, like his wonderful father. His father, Senator Bailey, before going to the United States Senate, representated the old Fifth district in Congress, Collin county being in the district. Br. Bailey states that he will make a complete speaking tour of Texas during the summer of 1934.

RECENT DEATH MRS. IRENE GADDY NEAR PRINCETON

After an illness of several months, Mrs. Irene Gaddy, widow of the late J. M. Gaddy, died in her home in the Thompson community Nov. 1, 1933, at 12:25 p. m.

Deceased was born in Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 10, 1863, being at the time of her death 70 years of age. She made her home in the Thompson community, about 12 miles southeast of McKinney, for the past 50 years.

Mrs. Gaddy, better known as Grandmother Gaddy, was a member of the Baptist church at Thompson and later moved her membership to Princeton. She was a good Christian woman, mother and grandmother.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church at Princeton at 2 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 2, conducted by Rev. Greer, pastor of the Baptist church at Princeton. Interment in Princeton cemetery.

Active pallbearers were her grandsons: James and Oliver Barnett, Leroy Steffey, George F. Bass, George Marlow, Jess Hood.

Flower girls wehe her granddaughters: Clevie Pendleton, Doothy Gaddy, Frances Gaddy, Mary Lou, Genell, Daphine Bass, Christine Curtis, Eula Mae Stephenson, Beulah Sheubert, Duffy Steffey.

Surviving are nine children, six girls, three boys: Mrs. Zula Bass, Randlett, Oklahoma; Mrs. Mary Bass, Princeton; Mrs. Ella Barnett, Farmersville; Mrs. Lela Hanah, Archer City; J. F. Gaddy, Princeton; Mrs. Myrtle Sheubert, Point; L. F. Gaddy, Farmersville; W. R. Gaddy, Farmersville; Mrs. Curtis, Farmersville.

Mrs. W. A. Jackson Attends Funeral of Sister-In-Law

Mrs. W. A. Jackson has returned from Victoria, Texas, where she attended funeral services held there at 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, November 14, for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mattie Louise Sproles, 59, wife of N. A. Sproles, who died suddenly at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening from an attack of acute indigestion. Mr. Sproles and Mrs. Jackson are brother and sister. Rev. R. A. Taylor, the new pastor of the First Methodist church at Victoria, conducted the services. Burial followed in the Evergreen cemetery with J. M. Beckman, J. R. Trice, W. K. Davies, Lee Funk, Walter Ehrhardt and A. F. Teague as pallbearers.

The following information regarding Mrs. Sproles death, is taken from the Victoria Advocate:

Mr. and Mrs. Sproles located in Victoria about fifteen years ago and returned to this city to live about a year ago after residing in various points in the county where Mr. Sproles engaged in farming and dairying upon his retirement four years ago from the employment of the South Texas Cotton Oil Company, which he had served as superintendent here and at Temple, Cleburne and other points in this state and Louisiana for thirty years.

For some time Mrs. Sproles had been conducting a boarding and rooming house in the old Peticolas home and was stricken while serving supper, dying within thirty minutes. She was very highly esteemed and had numerous friends.

Mrs. Sproles, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Perkie, deceased, was born in Bowling Green, Ky., May 3, 1874. In addition to her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Eulia Elliott of Victoria; one sister, Mrs. Mollie Littlepage of San Benito Cal.; one brother, William Perkle of Denison, and two grandchildren of this city.

GENERAL CHMN. JOE E. LARGENT IS WORKING

Considerable interest has been aroused by the announcement that McKinney is to put on another pre-holiday program and celebration.

Joe E. Largent was re-elected general chairman at a mass meeting called the other night by the Retail Merchants' association. The mayor filled the job so acceptably last year that he was re-elected.

The three days, December 4, 5, 6, will be used by local merchants and city forces in decorating stores and business districts. At the same time, it is hoped that private residences will be decorated on every street of the city by a little Christmas tree in the window, evergreen decorations on verandas and porches and otherwise adorned with colored lights.

Then on December 7 the annual celebration will be formally opened. It is hoped that a friendly rivalry will spring up in both the business districts and residential sections of the city for the most unique holiday advertisement.

The Retail Merchants association meeting designated the following committees:

Joe E. Largent, General Chairman.

Program Committee:
Frank Cook, Chmn.
H. H. Standley.
C. W. Graves.
Erwin Kissinger.
Byron Hope.

Finance Committee:
Henry W. Warden, Chmn.
W. C. Pettitt.
Larry Drake, V-Chmn.
Bob Gordon.
Earl Walker.
W. J. Woods.

Publicity Committee:
Clifton Dowell, Chmn.
C. M. Cooper.
Walter B. Wilson.
F. Carlie Thompson.

Other Committees Appointed.

Mayor Largent, general chairman, announces the appointment of the following additional committees (which are the same as functioned last year):

Decoration Committee:
Jeanne d 'Arc club.
Mrs. Alwin Hines, Chmn.
Mrs. H. A. Finch, Jr.
Mrs. J. C. Erwin, Jr.
Mrs. J. J. Thompson.
Chas. W. Graves.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cole.

Judges:
Miss Bessie Heard.
Mrs. Laura Emerson.
Mrs. Joe E. Largent.

John Heard, well-known pioneer citizen of McKinney, has been confined to his home for the past several days with illness. His daughter, Mrs. Roger Astin, of Bryan, is here attending his bedside and another daughter, Miss Laura Heard, of McKinney, who had been visiting in Bryan, has also returned home to attend her father's bedside.

The large brick building, owned by F. B. Pope, occupied by the Collin County Buick company, Gibson Phelps, manager, is being nicely repainted. J. Dewey May, Mr. Pope's general repair man and foreman, has the work in charge.

Lee Eastham is a business visitor in Greenville Tuesday.

SON-IN-LAW MR. AND MRS. T. L. BAILEY SUCCESSFUL PASTOR

Rev. Uei D. Crosby, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Tom L. Bailey of this city, was returned as pastor of the First Methodist church, at Ralls, Crosby county, West Texas, by Bishop Boaz presiding at the Northwest Texas Conference session that closed at Clarendon, Sunday night. Rev. Mr. Crosby, who has only been preaching about eight years, had exceptionally fine reuslts in his pastorate during the year just closed.

He has a membership of between 400 and 500 and good modern brick church plant. During the year, he had 46 additions, 32 of which were on profession of faith. In addition to paying his salary and conference claims in full, the church also raised and paid $540 on its $1300 church debt. The money raised and paid on the church debt was made off a 75-acre cotton crop near the town that Rev. Mr. Crosby planted, cultivated and picked by the aid of his membership with free labor.

Rev. Mr. Crosby's wife was formerly Miss Opal Bailey of McKinney. They have two children, Ruth Marie, four, and Nancy Lou, one-and-a-half years old. Rev. Mr. Crosby and wife are both graduates of Southern Methodist university and are finely equipped young people for his pastoral work. and attendant church leadership duties.

Rev. Mr. Crosby is the son of another Methodist preacher, Rev. R. A. Crosby, who has just been designated as pastor at Englewood church, Fort Worth, going there from Itasca, in the Central Texas conference. His appointment was also announced Sunday night by Bishop Hay, presiding at annual conference at its concluding session at Corsicana.

NEVER PICK, SQUEEZE A BOIL OR PIMPLE ON NOSE OR LIP

Let readers of this paper be warned. The following appeared in the Dallas Journal at request of a Dallas Medical school:

Ordinarily boils are of little consequence, aside from the local discomfort they cause. When they occur in the region of the nose or upper lip they can be quickly fatal. Unfortunately, this fact is not generally known. Entirely too many cases of fatal clotting in the vessels at the base of the brain occur each year as a result of improper treatment of apparently innocent boils located in the region of the upper face. Boils in this region should never be incised, picked or squeezed, as doing so may force infection into the veins that drain the blood from this portion of the face. These veins are peculiar, in that they contain no valves. Blood from this region is carried by these valveless veins into the skull to pass through the large venous sinuses on its way to the heart. The first of these sinuses is the "Cavernous Sinus," located within the skull, behind the eyes, and just beneath the brain. If infection is carried into this sinus, or blood cavity, a clotting of the contained blood results. This infected blood clot finally leads to complete obstruction of the blood flow. The infection soon spreads, resulting in a meningitis, and portions of the infected clot are carried by the blood to various parts of the body. Once established, the condition which is termed "Cavernous Sinus Thrombisis," is invariably fatal. All treatment is hopeless, once the infected clot has formed.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Scott of El Paso are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Scott.

Miss Eva Ellen Berry is confined to her home with the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Newsome of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Newsome of Dallas are on a hunting trip in Southwest Texas.

Mrs. Wofford Thompson has returned from a week's visit to Ennis.

FROM THE FILES OF THE DAILY COURIER-GAZETTE

(November 14, 1908.)

Prof. B. Frank Skelton was here today from Viney Grove. He will teach at Fayburg this year.

Mrs. J. B. Naylor of Waco is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dowell in McKinney.

Mrs. W. S. Wysong of Melissa was shopping and visiting in McKinney yesterday afternoon.

Thanks to our good old friend, R. A. Berrett, Route 2, McKinney, for cash on renewal subscription.

Abe Harris is here from Anna today and gave our office a business call. He says cotton is practically all picked in his community. Other farm work is also well up.

J. A. Furr who lives on his farm, just southeast of town, orders the Democrat-Gazette to change his address to Kirkland, Childress county, where he is moving.

R. Thornton, an esteemed old farmer of the Mantua community, near the North Collin line, was a business visitor today. He was reared in the same community where he now lives and when a boy attended school there to Capt. J. L. Greer, now of McKinney.

Sheriff George Eubanks, Price Bush, and Jim Bush, both of Allen, and Henry Parker of Melissa, left McKinney today for Brewster county, in Southwest Texas, on a ten days' hunting trip.

Then, there's the opinion of one of the husky McKinney High Lion substitutes, who is somewhat boastful when he is reminded that not a single touchdown has been made against the Lions while he's been in the game.

P.-T. A. CONGRESS

The twenty-fifth annual assembly of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers got under way in Sherman Monday with Mrs. A. F. Wood, Athens, state chairman, in charge of the program. Mrs. Wood was expected to be chosen as president for the 1933-35 term, she having been named for that post by the nominating committee. The central theme of the convention, "The Child and His Community," was introduced by Mrs. Charles E. Roe, Denver, national representative, at a banquet Monday night.

THANKSGIVING DAY

No holiday in all the year is more distinctively American than Thanksgiving, which is the occasion for family reunions and gatherings of friends from one end of the United States to the other, for football games and turkey dinners, for services in the churches, and for the exchange of greeting telegrams between those who would like to be together on that occasion but cannot. It is strictly American, although there were harvest days longs before this continent was discovered. But what we started out to tell you is that on next Thursday, Nov. 30, the day will be appropriately observed in McKinney. There are numerous events to mark the day's celebration in our home town. Chief of these will be Union Church Thanksgiving service, at the First Presbyterian church at 10 o'clock that morning. The minister will be Rev. Minor Bounds, pastor of the First Methodist church. Sports lovers will be interested in that gridiron contest here in the afternoon between McKinney High Lions and the Gainesville Leopards. Business will be at a standstill, as McKinney merchants close their places of business in observance of the day. Prepare now to observe the day in a fitting and appropriate manner.

HORSES COMING BACK

"Horses are about to stage a comeback in Texas; not only the finer breeds, but sturdier stock that can do much of the day's work on the farms, and in the towns and cities." So says Hilton R. Greer, writing in his column, "This Afternoon" in the Dallas Journal. If we don't miss our guess, the tense of Mr. Greer's story should be changed from future to present. In other words, horses are already staging a comeback and here in Collin county we have ample proof of the statement, judging from the three-year successful horse show, held in connection with the annual Collin County Free fair, one of the premier horse shows of the Southwest. But back to Mr. Greer's story, written from a "Dallas angle." He says: "Horse shows have awakened in the new generation admiration for this noblest of animals, and that there is a definite trend toward increased employment of horses in agriculture and the service of business, we may witness in the next few years a marked revival of the good old industry of horseshoeing.

How many Dallas citizens today could locate readily a horseshoeing establishment? Dallas has more than a few such establishments, even now; not so many of course, as our filling stations, and not so attractive in appearance. There are fifteen or twenty, however, on the word of one [illegible]. Dallas horses used in [illegible] service or privately owned are sufficiently numerous to [illegible] these specialists sustain[illegible]. When the business becomes more active, some local Longfellow may find inspiration to do a modern ballad on the City Smithy."

FALL REUNION OF SCOTTISH RITE MASONS

The fall reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonary convened in Dallas Monday and will hold sessions until Friday conferring from the fourth to the thirty-second degrees. Senator Tom W. Perkins, one of the editors of this paper, is honored to represent the Dallas Consistory on the Membership Committee. There are quite a number of 32 degree Masons in McKinney and Collin county, and this is a nice honor for Senator Perkins to receive among his Masonic brothers, unsolicited and for which he was thankful. On Friday evening and night, the twenty-fourth, Hella Temple will hold the annual conclave, and a large number have already been elected to take the Shrine degrees. Several wearers of the Red Top Fez will go down from McKinney and Collin county.

Harry King of Wylie Pays Us Welcome Visit

Our friend of forty years' standing, Harry King, of Wylie, called in and had us enroll his name as a reader of the Big Weekly Democrat-Gazette for a year. Known this fine fellow practically all of our life. He used to be a rearer of the Wylie Rustler, when this editor established that paper forty years ago.

Harry tells us that a Catholic concert will be given at the Legion Hall on December 13 in Wylie at which the entire public is invited. He tells us that a 566-pound bale of cotton and a registered cow will be given away. So, it behooves all to be present and see if they'll have some good luck on the closing of the old year, 1933. We were very much pleased to again meet and shake the friendly hand of our life-long friend.

Mrs. J. P. Loftice Aged Weston Lady Passes Away

Mrs. Martha H. Loftice, 77, died Sunday, Nov. 12, at her late home near Weston and funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Cottage Hill conducted by, the Rev. J. E. Gorton, pastor of the Weston Christian church. Burial was in Cottage Hill cemetery, with S. K. Paffford in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Loftice was Miss Martha R. Hobbs, and was married to J. P. Loftice Nov. 22, 1873. To this union were born 10 children, eight of whom survive as follows: Mrs. Nellie Flannery, Mrs. R. H. Luscomb, Curtis and Claude Loftice, Weston; Whit Loftice, Chambersville; Mrs. C. C. Driver and Mrs. Robinson of near McKinney. There are also 40 grandchildren and 27 great grandchildren. She had been a member of the Christian church at Weston a number of years.

Mrs. R. A. Furr is confined to her home with illness.

(November 18, 1908.)

J. W. Hill made an almost clean sweep at the recent Texas State fair, Dallas, on his Golden Wyandotte chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Cotner of Copeville have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. L. Sears, here. The latter has been very ill but is some better now.

Revs. J. B. Gober, J. F. Pierce, N. R. Stone and J. E. Hinman are all attending the North Texas Annual Conference of the M. E. church, South, at Greenville.

Henry Goeman sends cash to renew for the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for his father L. Goeman, Crowell, Texas. Years ago, the latter was a baker in McKinney.

J. B. Rhoden tells us that he will move his grocery store from South Tennessee street to the building now occupied by Cliff Emerson's grocery store. Mr. Rhoden has been in the grocery business here since 1902 with the exception of ten months that he was out on account of a burn out.

R. E. Carpenter has been re-elected president of the McKinrey Commercial club, and Rev. W. B. Carnes, re-elected secretary. Board of Directors: Giles McKinney, Howell E. Smith, George Wilcox, W. H. CHMN. HOLIDAY PROGRAM

MAYOR JOE E. LARGENT

Definite plans were made for the annual pre-Christmas holiday celebration and advertising campaign for McKinney, at a meeting held here Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms by the Retail Merchants' association and other interested citizens.

Mayor Joe E. Largent was chosen as general chairman of the Christmas program again this year, and Thursday, December 7, was set as the formal opening of the celebration, to continue through the holidays until New Year's. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, December 4, 5 and 6, were agreed on as the dates for decorating the stores, streets and residences preparatory for the opening program, arrangements for which are to be in the hands of the program committee appointed by President Leo Spillman of the Retail Merchants association, who presided at the meeting.

The program committee is composed of Frank Cook, chairman; H. H. Standley, Chas. G. Graves, Erwin Kissinger and W. Byron Hope. Their announcements will be forthcoming in the near future, and the formal opening of this McKinney pre-holiday celebration will be an event of unusual interest, expected to attract a big crowd to our city daily from every part of the county.

President Spillman announced other committees in the celebration set-up as follows:

Committees Named.

Finance Committee— Henry W. Warden, chairman; Larry Drake, W. C. Pettit, Earl Walker, W. J. Woods.

Publicity Committee — Clifton Dowell, chairman; Chas. M. Cooper, Walter B. Wilson and F. Carlie Thompson.

Our merchants and business people expressed themselves as unanimous for this pre-Christmas celebration which will be the seventh annual event of the kind to be held here.

City to Be Decorated.

It is expected that the business district and stores will be adorned with myriad colored lights and other colored lighting effects, besides the customary evergreen decorations in the way of Christmas trees, holly wreaths and other greenery and methods employed in Christmas advertising and decorations. It is hoped to make McKinney one of the most attractive cities in North Texas during the glad holiday season by means of these decorations. Efforts will be made to extend these decorations to private homes and residences on every street of the city, including the cotton mill addition and the colored section of the city.

In response to President Spillman's invitation to express their sentiments, the following citizens talked briefly on the desirability of observing this year's holiday season in a greater way than ever before: C. E. Graves, Leo Spillman, W. Hammond Moore, Earl Walker, J. Frank Smith, Walter B. Wilson, Chas. W. Graves, Choice McClure, Clifford Thomas, R. A. Furr, Howard S. Ware, J. N. Foster Jr., Dr. J. S. Bridgefarmer, Otis E. Nelson, F. Carlie Thompson, Fred Dickinson and others.

W. M. (Bill) Baker dropped in to see us from his farm near Blue Ridge. For four years he was county commissioner from the Farmersville-Blue Ridge district. Did he make a good county commissioner? He did, so all his neighbors and friends in that district say. Bill's friends—he being a popular man—got him in the race in 1932 for the legislature. Bill was defeated around 150 votes. Mighty close. While here he tells us that he has received letters and solicitions from every box in the county to try his luck again in 1934. Did not tell us what he was going to do, But said that he was in the "hands of his friends." Bad shape to be in, believe us. With Bill's friendly, handshake and that cold penetrating, steel grey eye of his "looking you over," we'll go dimes to dough-nuts that Bill's friends put him in the race. Bill met many friends while here.

Mrs. Ralph E. Frazier of this city is attending the bedside of her mother, Mrs. C. W. Hardaway, at Melissa, who is seriously ill. Her illness started with a fall from her chair in the home about three weeks ago. She has since been given the anti-tetanus serum.

INTERMENT OF MRS. R. L. WILLIS AT LITTLE ELM

Mrs. Robbie L. Willis, wife of R. B. Willis, died in a hospital at Crockett, where they resided, Tuesday. The body was brought to Frisco by the Byrum Funeral home Wednesday, to the home of her brother, Will H. Clarke. Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ at Little Elm Thursday afternoon with burial in the Little Elm cemetery.

Mrs. Willis was born and grew to womanhood in the Little Elm community where she has a host of friends and relatives. The bereavement is doubly sad for Mr. Willis in that they lost their only child four years ago.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her father, P. R. Clarke, of Little Elm; six brothers, O. R. and J. G. Clarke, of Denton; C. M. Clarke, of Gainesville; A. P. Clarke, of Fort Worth; J. P. Clarke, of Dill, Okla.; E. E. Clarke, Little Elm; W. H. Clarke, Frisco; two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Hart, of Denton, and Mrs. Mattie Peters, of Gallup, New Mexico. Her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Willis, and a brother, Haskell Willis, reside in McKinney. Mrs. R. L. Ray of this city is an aunt of the deceased.

How To Kill Johnson Grass With Geese

J. E. Fitzgerald, of Erath county, writing to the Farm & Ranch, gives some valuable information about the use of geese to kill out Johnson grass. We thought it would be of interest to our readers. It is as follows:

"Johnson grass can be easily killed," says Mr. Fitzgerald, "but the seed blow around and get it back on the land. You have just got to keep on killing it if you are to keep it killed." Here is Mr. Fitzgerald's plan: "Put up a 2-foot net light wire fence around your place. Then put a 'passel' of geese on the Johnson grass. They will also get your crab grass and the Colorado grass. Geese get very finicky about their eating during the summer and will not eat Johnson grass, but in the early spring they will pull up every shoot like a lark pulls up corn. The grass just can't grow that is all. You can plant the land in cotton, planting it rather thick, and there will be no Johnson grass in it in the fall, and you won't have to take a hoe to the field. If the fence rows are cleaned cut good, so there are no briars for the geese to step on, they will clean it up along there, too, but they won't go among briars. A goose hates to step on a briar. Geese have to be fed in winter time, and they are subject to coccidosis, likely more than are chickens.

I have often wondered why cotton farmers do not get geese and make cotton on Johnson grass land while they go fishing. Geese will ruin most any other crop except cotton. They will eat half-grown peaches off the trees, but they would be good to run in a strawberry field after the berries are picked.

If I were a cotton farmer, I had rather have a hundred head of geese than a $1,000 tractor.

I have a piece of cotton on Johnson grass land this year that was badly infested with Johnson grass last winter."

MEETING DALLAS PRESBYTERY HELD IN SHERMAN

Dr. Robert L. Cowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Erwin, have returned home from Sherman where they spent Tuesday and Wednesday attending the fall meeting of Dallas Presbytery. The attendance was splendid and an interesting program rewarded visiting pastors and other delegates who attended from over the Presbytery, which includes forty-one churches, extending from Waxahachie to Clayton, New Mexico.

The opening sermon was delivered Tuesday night by Rev. Manford Gutzke, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Dallas, and retiring moderator. His address was followed by the communion service. Rev. Raymond A. Partlow, pastor of the Grand Avenue Presbyterian church, of Sherman, was elected moderator to succeed Rev. Gutzke.

The Wednesday program was opened by devotional conducted by Rev. Frank Clark of Dallas, while at 11:15 o'clock that morning. Dr. William E. Veiderwolf, noted evangelist, who is conducting a revival in Dallas, addressed the Presbytery and student body of Austin college. The reports at this fall meeting were good, considering the condition of the times, according to Dr. Cowan.

While in Sherman, Dr. Cowan and Mr. and Mr. Erwin were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Fant, Mesdames Erwin and Fant being sisters.

CURTIS MORRIS ADDRESSED THE ROTARY CLUB

Curtis Morris of Longview, a leading official of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, was Rotary Club speaker at its Friday noonday luncheon program held in the Educational building of the First Christian church.

Mr. Morris has served as editor of "East Texas," the official magazine of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, and is also regarded as an expert on tax matters and other governmental knowledge.

His subject was "The New Deal." It was one of the best expositions of President Roosevelt's entire recovery program that we have yet heard detailed and explained. Mr. Morris has had intimate connection with the institution of these federal recovery measures in the East Texas Chamber of Commerce area and is thoroughly posted on the subject. He is a most pleasing and entertaining public speaker.

Mr. Morris was introduced by Rotarian Gibson Caldwell who is one of the directors of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

President Howard S. Ware presided with his usual dignity and smooth way of conducting a public meeting.

Visitors of the day were Wayne Graves of Melissa, the McKinney High School Student club member, and Rev. Minor Bounds, the new pastor of the First Methodist church. Wilkins Comegys introduced the visitors.

A splendid dinner was served by a group of First Christian church ladies under the chairmanship of Mrs. George B. Kindle.

Rev. A. H. Snider, Christian minister of this city, has again been called as pastor of the Forest Grove church, southeast of McKinney. This will be Rev. Mr. Snider's sixth year as pastor of this progressive rural church. He preached there at the morning hour Sunday to a large congregation. Sunday school was likewise well attended Sunday, with R. E. Deal as superintendent. A singing class has been organized in that community, which meets at that church each Sunday night.

Summa Bryant, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Bryant, has returned from Peoria, Ill., where he has been taking a course in watchmaking and repairing at the Bradley Polytechnic Institute. Summa spent the past year in study at this well-known school, where he made a wonderful success in his studies. Summa is planning to open up a business in this line of work in the near future, being well prepared for such line of endeavor.

SIX-POUND TURNIP GIVEN THESE EDITORS BY MART KINDLE

M. J. (Mart) Kindle, a real dirt farmer, with patches on his trousers and callouses in his hands, living out on Route 5, comes by while in McKinney to bring us a turnip weighing six pounds. Some people argue you can't raise anything in Old Collin except "hallelujah." But you can. Mr. Kindle's turnips gave these editors at least a three days' ration. Thanks, Mart. We hope you grow larger turnips next year.

C. C. Wilson, wife and two little children of Sherman, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] in McKinney. [illegible]
